

WE NOMINATE

Oswald Veblen, one of the Princeton Community's distinguished senior citizens, who this week—some 54 years after he first strolled along Nassau Street—will be quietly participating in the most meaningful observance of recent years in the County of Mercer, the official opening of the 81-acre "Herrontown Wood." This wooded tract, with its entrance located near the junction of Snowden Lane and the Herrontown Road, is the gift to the County of Dr. and Mrs. Veblen and ranks with Battlefield Park as a key "green buffer" in an area more concerned with black-topped parking areas and traffic flow than with the preservation of "open-ness."

Some two years ago, when Professor and Mrs. Veblen proposed the creation of "Herrontown Wood," representing some 86% of their land-holdings in Princeton Township, they emphasized, "there is nowhere around here where you can get away from cars and just go walk and sit." They recalled that Princeton, "when we came here in 1905, was a lovely village" and expressed the hope that their gift would make it possible to preserve "just a little bit of this outdoor atmosphere." The County's Board of Freeholders, in turn, has announced its intention of maintaining a "nature museum," or a kind of arboretum seldom found in the Eastern U.S.

The 79-year old Veblen, whose announcement of the gift of Herrontown Wood to the County coincided some two years ago with the U.S. House of Representatives' "massacre" of the Federal School Aid Bill, belongs in the first row of eminent American mathematicians. A native of Decorah, Iowa, and a member of the Class of 1898 at the University of Iowa, he was called to Princeton in 1905 as one of Woodrow Wilson's original "preceptor guys"—the group that succeeded in tripping the alarm which stirred the erstwhile College of New Jersey out of its early-century somnolence.

A nephew of economist Thorstein Veblen, and over the years the recipient of honorary degrees from institutions in Europe and this country, Veblen grew from strength to greater strength as a Princeton-based mathematician. During his 27 years in the University (1905-1932) and another 18 (1932-1950) as the first professor ever appointed to the Institute for Advanced Study, he was a driving force in shaping the traditions and intellectual climate which have made Princeton all that it is in the world of scholarship. It was significant—upon his retirement from the Institute in 1950—that he was serving as president of the International Congress of Mathematicians.

Veblen, described in a current reference-work as an authority to whom laymen would turn for information on "foundations of geometry, projective geometry, analysis situs, differential variants and spinors," was hailed in 1957 by the University in conferring the honorary degree of Doctor of Science. "A giant of geometrics" and a "theorist of great eminence in the development of projective relativity," Veblen—according to the University Orator—merited international recognition for what he has done in lifting the sights of both the University and Institute in the sphere of pure mathematics.

For bolstering Princeton by becoming a citizen of the first order in the "society of scholars," for demonstrating by example that a great teacher can never foresee "where his influence will stop," for looking far beyond the traffic-locked visions of Township and Borough planners; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

THE REFERENDUMS

Four on the Ballot. When Princetonians go to the polls on November 3, they will be asked to vote on four referendums which affect citizens of the state of New Jersey. TOWN TOPICS presents as a service to its readers a summary of these amendments together with the stand it takes on each of these public questions.

The referendums are the college bond issue; the turnpike - transit proposal; the amusement games licensing law; and, in Mercer and 14 other counties, the Sunday closing of certain types of commercial establishments.

Like all public questions, each has its backers and attackers

NEW TITLE: Dr. John J. Mc-Kenna, principal of Valley Road School, will also serve as assistant superintendent of Township Schools. (Story, page 9.)

with various motives. Two of the questions, the one on games and the one on Sunday closing, have religious overtones which have led many Protestant groups to take sides. One Catholic organization has announced its opposition to the college bond issue.
Governor Robert Meyner has endorsed the college bond issue and the transit referendum and has taken no position on the Sunday closing and games amendments.

College Bond Issue. In December, 1957, the State Board of Education made a report to the Governor and legislature recommending capital expenditures for higher education. The current referendum is the outgrowth of that report.

The current issue of TOWN
TOPICS, running to 16 pages, is eight pages larger than any issue of October, 1958.
The current circulation of 12,917 is well over twice that reported by any other Princeton newspaper.

The Board recommended a construction program costing $32,550, 000 of which $13,350,000 would be raised by bond issue. Because of the need for immediate action, the 1958 legislature appropriated about $10,000,000 out of current revenues and voters are now asked to approve a $66,400,000 bond issue to complete the program.

The money would be used for buildings, the improvement of existing facilities and equipment for the four divisions of Rutgers (Camden, Newark and New Brunswick campuses and Douglass College); the six State Teachers Colleges and the Newark College of Engineering. (In the case of the engineering school, the purchase of land is also involved.)

All state organizations concerned with education have endorsed the proposal including The New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers. In addition, the measure is supported by the state Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion, the state Federation of Labor, the state CIO, the independent unions and the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

The issue is opposed by the New Jersey Knights of Columbus Council which believes that state colleges should obtain their new buildings from annual budget allotments and that "consideration be given to the idea of helping private colleges."

The Council's statement of opposition refers to the provision in the referendum that, if the $7,000,000 annual payments cannot be met from the budget or from inheritance taxes, a property tax will be levied in each municipality. A spokesman from the Council has said that, if the referendum is passed, New Jersey citizens "can be assured that a new state tax on homeowners will be levied in short order."

The provision is which the Council refers has been stimu-lard part of all bond issues since 1930.

Other Opposition Exists. The New Jersey Citizens for Tax Relief are also opposed to the referendum, believing that the million should be cut by two-thirds and the money used for scholarship to existing private colleges. "Voters are being stim-ped into a senseless outlay,"

NEW JERSEY PUBLIC COLLEGE ENROLLMENT (1955-1959)

OUR CROWDED COLLEGES: This chart, prepared by the Citizens' Committee for College Opportunities in connection with its campaign for approval of the proposed college bond issue, shows the growth in New Jersey's public college enrollment over the last five years. Enrollment has increased by 5,873 since 1955.

This Is Princeton

spokesman for the organization have said.

Figures assembled by the Citizens Committee for College Opportunities in New Jersey show that the state is 30th in per capita expenditures for higher education. The actual figure in 1958 was $6.10 per person, compared with a national average of $13.60. (Other estimates rank the state 45th in per capita expenditures.)

The same organization points out that there are less than 11 high school graduates in New Jersey colleges for every 1,000 persons in the population. Only four states rank lower than New Jersey in this respect.

The pressure in the state colleges is on right now. There were 30 students at Rutgers this fall sleeping on cots in a converted recreation room but it is expected to be even greater in the next few years. Next June, New Jersey's high schools will graduate 6,000 pupils. In 1960, the high schools are expected to turn out 61,600 and in 1965, 82,000.

According to State Board of Education figures, almost 12,000 high school graduates will have no place to go in college by 1965.

unless the state's facilities are expanded. Approval of the bond issue would cost each New Jersey resident less than two cents per week.

TOWN TOPICS endorses this referendum, believing with its other supporters, that it is the most practical way to solve New Jersey's pressing educational problem.

Referendum On Transportation. This referendum proposes the use of surplus Turnpike toll funds to help New Jersey solve its transportation problems — the financial plight of the commuter railroads being the most pressing of these problems.

The referendum provides that the state will guarantee the $150,000,000 in turnpike bonds now outstanding if bondholders will agree to let the surplus Turnpike revenues go into the state's transportation fund. At present, the agreements between Turnpike Authority and bondholders do not allow surplus funds to be used for bonds.

The referendum does not make any specific proposals as to how the railroads should be helped; specific planning is left to the legislature. There is now a surplus of $25,000,000 and the Authority expects an annual surplus of $8 to $10 million over the next decade.

The present bonded debt of the Turnpike will continue to be discharged from toll receipts and if the referendum is passed, the final retirement of the debt will be when the bonds mature, rather than in 1974 as in the current agreement.

Chief opposition to the referendum comes from Hudson County whose communities are afraid they would lose the taxes they now collect from second-class (non-mainline) railroads if the legislature should decide that tax relief is the best way to help the hard-pressed roads. The state Federation of Labor has also opposed the measure as a "Give-away to the railroads" and "not in the best interests of the citizens of New Jersey."

Experts believe that it is indeed a serious weakness to say, as the referendum does, "Let's get the money now and decide later how we'll use it"; however, direct tax relief would not necessarily be the next step.

Governor Meyner has proposed a "contract plan" under which the state would pay the railroads for commuter service — perhaps by guaranteeing to underwrite losses or by direct payment, and economists who have studied the transportation problem believe this would be workable and sound.

There is another "if" — interest rates were much lower when the bonds were first issued than they are now. Dwight B. C. Palmer, State Highway Commissioner, has said that the bondholders might require a "sweetener" before they would be willing to go along with the state, and this higher interest rate might eat up as much as

NEW BUILDING PLANNED

For Offices and Stores. A five-story office building with retail stores on its ground floor has been planned for 194 Nassau Street. The property has been acquired by Sands and Associates from the James Lyons Company and construction is expected to start about April 1 if the new owners can obtain the necessary zoning variance from the Borough.

According to the zoning ordinance, the building must have one parking space for every 400 square feet of floor space. This means 118 parking spaces and the property only has room for about 18. Officials in the Borough engineer's office believe this is one of the biggest variances ever requested. The zoning board will hear the case this Thursday night.

If Sands and Associates are able to proceed with their plans, they will construct a Colonial-style structure about 70 by 113 feet with 8,000 square feet of space on each of the five floors.

The building will be completely air-conditioned with two elevators and two stairwells. The Hilton Realty Company, agent for the building, reports that it has rented about one-third of the space at $4 per square foot. No architect has yet been chosen.

Sands' lot is 79 by 180 feet and the builders propose to devote the rear 67 feet of property to parking, for 16-18 cars, leasing it to the Borough for $1 for ten years.

CAMPAIGNS CONTINUE

Water Pollution Attacked. The charge that "water pollution is the most shocking crisis that has hit Princeton Township in the past year" was made this week by Henry S. Dyer and Richard T. Frost, Democratic candidates or Township Committee. They took the stand that "the pollution mess is one more example of the lack of foresight and the piecemeal approach to fundamental problems that characterize the present regime."

Asking whether it will be necessary to "pay our way out of this crisis with a fat tax increase," the Democrats indicate that "similar costly oversights" may be ahead "because our governing body can't seem to see a problem until it's right under its nose." The statement continues:

"But the high cost of erratic government is not just a matter of dollars and cents. The health and safety of all our people are at stake. There is no Township law on fences around swimming pools; no law prohibiting hunting in our fast-growing community. These should be looked into immediately."

"Traffic hazards emerge al-

most monthly in various spots in town—at Birch Avenue and Bayard Lane, for instance, and at Riverside and Nassau. Will it always require petitions from alarmed residents before Township Hall begins to move on such matters?

"Kingston Trap Rock explosions have been damaging Township homes for years, but it was not until last May that the Committee passed even a resolution about this nuisance. Shouldn't someone be looking into the appropriateness of general garbage collection for the whole town at a reasonable price?"

TAX STABILITY URGED

By Republican Candidates. John S. Mount and Thomas P. Cook, GOP candidates for Township Committee, stressed the need for tax stability this week, adding that "we have a concrete program for meeting this challenge." To offset increased outlays for municipal services and other steadily-rising costs, they recommend:

"(1) long-range planning for the installation of all major utility—Continued on Page 9 half of the surpluses, according to one authority.

Turnpike surpluses could be used in many useful ways; TOWN TOPICS believes that the plight of the commuter railroads is genuinely desperate, that it affects the people of the state in a vital way, and that the referendum provides the best way to alleviate it.

Sunday Closing. Fifteen of the state's 21 counties — Mercer among them — have decided to put this question on the November 3 ballot. If the majority of voters in a county votes "yes," it will then be illegal in that county to sell certain kinds of goods on Sunday.

The articles affected are clothing, building and lumber supplies, furniture, household and office furnishings and appliances. Food, medicine, gasoline, essential services and recreational activities are excepted.

The amendment is supported by an alliance of businessmen and Protestant clergymen, and it had its origin in the desire of many New Jersey store owners to fight the competition presented by highway stores which stay open on Sunday.

Supporters of the referendum include the Trenton Chamber of Commerce and the Council of Churches in the Greater Trenton area. The Princeton Pastors' Association has taken no stand on the referendum although the Rev. David H. McAlpin, Jr., assistant pastor of Witherspoon Presbyterian Church, has been urging its passage in his capacity as chairman of Social Education for the Presbytery of New Brunswick. TOWN TOPICS also supports the measure and recommends a "Yes" vote.

Amusement Games Licensing Law. Games of chance were outlawed in 1956 by a State Supreme Court decision. This referendum would revive them, provide for their licensing and control and give to the voters of each municipality the chance to decide whether they want the games operating in their communities.

Princeton Borough and Township will vote only on the question of allowing these games in the state; there will be no local option vote in either municipality this year.

The referendum provides for licensing and control by an administrator who would have the power to investigate and oversee such activity. Governor Meyner, although he has not taken a stand on the measure, has emphasized its control features. TOWN TOPICS believes, however, that it is extremely difficult to protect the public from dishonesty in these games and recommends a "No" vote.

PERSONALITIES

Mrs. Blackwell Smith, 500 Mercer Road, who this fall, for the first time in 15 years, has found the pressure of numerous other commitments sufficiently great so that she cannot continue her immensely worthwhile direction of the Junior Community Players. During the span of a decade and a half, hundreds of Princeton area youngsters have come under her skilled guidance, as she often devoted portions of six afternoons a week to helping "children create their own plays in their own way."

Mrs. Elmer Alpert, Autumn Hill Road, who will serve this Thursday night at the Nassau Street School as moderator of what is annually one of Princeton's most interesting meetings. Sponsored each October for more than a decade by the League of Women Voters, Candidates' Night will bring together office-seekers from both Princeton municipalities to speak on the problems currently confronting this ceaselessly-expanding community.

Harry Hamer, long-time Princetonian, who has returned here to assume direction of the Western Union Telegraph office, replacing Martin M. Liples, now managing the company's office in Trenton. In being named temporary manager, a title soon expected to become permanent, Mr. Hamer follows in the footsteps of his father, the late Walter Hamer, who was in charge here for many years.

Quick Thought

Temperature fifty—
Blanket feels nifty.

—TOES T. WARM

There were a couple of days in the past week when a blanket would have continued to feel good well after sun-up. See all that frost sparkling in the early-morning light?

Pleasant fall days ahead, the Weather Man reported, with little or no rain over the weekend. Temperature about normal of 55, but down below 40 over night.

ROUND-UP

Half a dozen Princetonians report receiving anonymous telephone calls in the early hours of Saturday (2 to 3 a.m.) . . . the caller was both profane and threatening but not, apparently, wholly intelligible . . . the various incidents were reported to Township Police.

New York Airways has announced long-range plans to provide helicopter service between Trenton, Princeton, New Brunswick, Newark and New York . . . the service is not scheduled to go into effect before 1964 but calls for construction of a heliport in the Princeton area, a venture that was loudly opposed several years ago when an abortive 'copter mail service was instituted here.

President Robert F. Goheen said this week that the University's requirement of compulsory chapel for the two younger classes may be reduced to apply to freshmen only . . . the regulation requiring attendance on at least half the Sundays in each term has been a bone of contention between undergraduates and trustees for upwards of three decades.

Light fingers were at work during the past week, Borough police reported . . . six parking meters on John Street were unlocked and an estimated $4 in coins removed . . . a member of the force lost a key two years ago but until last week's theft, no incident had occurred . . . Mrs. Edward Gubb, 301 Elm Road, reported theft of her purse from a downstairs living room, the loss including six silver dollars, one of which was minted in 1832 and ranked as a collector's item.

Twenty-seven drivers stopped by Township Police for speeding on the Princeton Pike last week figure to lose their licenses for 30 days . . . all were going over 60 and that brings automatic revocation . . . since the Township began using radar in late July, 89 tickets for the offense have been issued, a tenfold increase in the number stopped in the past during a three-month period.

THE CAVE DWELLERS: Stars of the Community Players' production of the William Saroyan fantasy, are (left to right) Robert Wren, Julia Fremont, Ted D'Arms and Shirley Kaufman. The play will be presented at the Alexander Street Playmill at 8:30 on Friday and Saturday nights this weekend and next. Frances Keene directed.

News Of The THEATRES

LOVE IN THE WORLD

Players Present Saroyan. The world of William Saroyan is a dreamily abstract place where a knock on the door can herald anything from a symbolic mute milkman to a performing bear, and love is the only value. When staged badly, the result can be fatuous, rambling nonsense, but when played understandingly, as in the current Community Players production at the Alexander Street Playmill, the result is warm, happy theatre of a high order.

The Players have chosen "The Cave Dwellers," a fable concerning a pair of lattered old actors, a young girl and an ex-prizefighter who live tenuously on the stage of a condemned, unused theatre. (In establishing universality, subtlety is not Saroyan's long suit: "The theatre is The World," one of the characters says toward the end; "I saw it on the marquee the other day.")

The still-proud actors, the King (Robert M. Wren) and the Queen (Shirley Kaufman), and the prizefighter, the Duke (Ted D'Arms), are living in the past, but the Girl (Julia Fremont) is quiveringly alive to the present. While they are groping toward an understanding that their happiness can be based on nothing but love, the stage is also peopled from time to time by a young couple (John Talbot and Judy Walton), their performing bear, Gorky (Stan Garbary); their newborn, as yet unnamed son; a milkman, the Silent Boy (Richard Coleman); the boss of the crew which plans to dynamite the theatre (Reed Armstrong); his assistant (George Novicki); and sundry others played by John Crowther, Katherine Post, Jane Andrews and Mr. Coleman.

Miss Kaufman and Mr. Wren are entirely convincing as the Queen and the King, capturing the pride and pathos of the faded stars. Mr. D'Arms is likable and somewhat confused and pathetic as the Duke, and Miss Fremont, an astonishingly pretty young lady, plays the awakening Girl with captivating honesty and earnestness.

Armstrong a Standout. Among the supporting players, Mr. Armstrong, the wrecking crew boss, was the standout performer, evincing simplehearted Gaelic benevolence and displaying a remarkably true Irish accent. Miss Walton and Mr. Talbot, the Mother and Father, were a trifle wooden in the opening night performance, but they should improve as the production gathers momentum during the remainder of its run, as it undoubtedly will.

The secret of success in a venture of this kind is pace, for if Saroyan's plays are to make sense they must be treated lightly in their comic moments and delicately when they become serious. Frances Keene, who directed for the Players, is to be commended for her handling of "The Cave Dwellers." The fact that the actors appear to understand the work so thoroughly is probably due largely to her work.

Richard Cumming composed effective musical interludes, which were recorded for the performance by Bruce McKinney, Steve Dana and Mr. Cumming. The low key lighting was arranged by David Lal.

The show played its opening performance Friday night to a disappointingly sparse crowd which received it enthusiastically and called the cast back for two encores. It will run this Friday and Saturday nights and the same nights next weekend. Performances are at 8:30.

"TEMPEST" WELL RECEIVED. Moss Truogge. Published. A capacity audience, augmented by a large group of standees, enthusiastically applauded the Shakespeare Festival Players' performance of "The Tempest" Saturday night at McCarter. Produced and directed by Arnold Moss, who also starred as Prospero, the play sparkled in all its moods, and captured the audience completely.

With a black curtain for a backdrop and few costumes, the actors brought the fantasy to the footlights with telling directness. The main curtain was not used, and only the lights served to terminate the scenes and the two acts. Onstage a few platforms. —Continued on Page 6

MAN IN THE MIDDLE: Clark Gable wags Carrell Baker as his ex-

Perberg-Scalet comedy will be featured through Tuesday at the Playhouse. Ella Fitzgerald sings the title tune.

spectled with paint, gave the haus for action.

Far from being drawbacks,
these "blacks" brought the audi-ence's attention directly to the play and the actors. Offstage mane, essential to the play, was extremely well handled; never obtrusive or obvious, but entirely natural.

Acting On High Level. Mr.
Moss gave the role of Prospero the requisite stature and scope with grand gestures and intonations. His mastery of the spirit world, as well as the human nerves inherent in the part,
came through with ease and grace.

Rebecca Lombard, as his daughter, Miranda, was charming as the 15-year-old girl isolated from mankind and isolated with a sweetness of character by her father. She handled her part infectiously, particularly in the scenes with Ferdinand who was her first glimpse of man as man.

The malice and evil of Caliban was marvellously portrayed by Richard Waring, a veteran of the Stratford, Conn., Shakespeare group. Makeup and costume were well handled in his case, and the proper reaction of overwhelming disgust was immediately forthcoming from the audience.
In his more appealing scenes with Stephano and Trinculo, the comic and pathetic aspects of his character came through in just the right way.

Frederic Warriner and Ken E.
Ruit, as Trinculo and Stephano, respectively, performed their broadly comic parts with gusto.
Shakespeare's lines glowed with life as the two stumbled over the platform drunkenly. The comic gestures and comic grimaces brought immediate response from the McCarter crowd.

Ariel a gem. Deserving of particular praise was Patricia Pearson as Ariel, the most played role in a somewhat difficult play. She was indeed "an airy spirit," moving as though borne on the wind and scuffling at the foibles of the human beings she manipulated.
Her red hair and green eye make-up enhanced the atmosphere created by her words and actions, and the music (an integral part of her character) made her only a creature from another world.

Philip Lawrence as Alonso and Roger Hamilton as his son, Ferdinand, brought life to what might have been rather wooden roles.
They were entirely convincing.
Bradford Sullivan, who played the boatswain in the opening shipwreck scene, created the timestop on stage in fine form, and he brought the full terror of the occasion into focus.

Dana Attractions scored a complete victory in bringing this production to McCarter. The group, gathered from Shakespeare festivals across the country, performed with skill and high style.
It is to be hoped that Mr. Moss will undertake a similar venture in the near future.

FRENCH THEATRE BOOKED

For One Night at McCarter,
The Theatre du Vieux Colom-bier, one of France's great national theatre groups, will make a special appearance next Thursday evening, October 29 at 8:30 in McCarter Theatre. The company, now on its second transcontinental tour of the United States under the official patronage of the French government, will present Paul Claudel's suspense drama, a

"L'Oiseau," or "The Hostage."
The performance has been arranged by Princeton University in cooperation with producer Jean de Riquart.

The Vieux Colom-bier, which was founded in 1913 by the famous actor-producer Jacques Co-jean, ranks with the TNP and the Comedie Francaise as one of France's oldest and most respected theatrical organizations. It first visited the United States in 1917 and last year toured this country and Canada in Racine's "Bri-lannicus."

The company's current vehicle,
"L'Oiseau," ran for a record 122 performances when presented last year in Paris by the Vieux Colom-bier. Its author, Paul Claudel, is ranked with Gide and Proust as one of the major French literary figures of the 20th century. He is the author of more than a dozen plays, including "Christophe Colomb," presented in this country in 1957 by the Jean-Louis Barrauld troupe. A member of the diplomatic corps as well as an author, Mr. Claudel served for 40 years in a variety of foreign posts, including that of French ambassador in Washington, which he held from 1926 to 1933.

Tickets for next Thursday's performance are on sale at the Princeton University Store and the box office of McCarter Theatre. They will also be sold at the box office the evening of the performance.

ONE-ACTERS READY

At Murray Theatre, Two one-act plays will be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at Murray Theatre by members of the Princeton Class of 1963.
Production will be under the ausices of the Theatre Intime.

On the program are Eugene O'Neill's "The Movie Man," detailing the adventures of a Hollywood producer who buys the film rights to a Cuban revolution, and the Nihil Comedy, "Petit Hands Across the Sea," Peter Stern heads the cast of the O'Neill play, with Ann Robertello of Princeton appearing in the only feminine role.

"Hands Across the Sea" casts Charles Lord in a leading role, while feminine parts are taken by Shalalith Oppenheim, Helen Ellis and Dorothy Collier. The Intime's first major fall presentation, Arthur Miller's "All My Sons," is billed for November 12-21.

GIEGLO TO RE HERE

In "Ages of Man," Sir John Gielgud's production, "Shakespeare's Ages of Man," will come to McCarter Theatre for a one-night stand on Thursday, November 19, under the auspices of the University Players. Sir John has appeared in Princeton in 1951, also in a program of readings from Shakespeare.

Taking his selections from the plays and the sonnets, Sir John Gielgud, the progression of man from youth to death, achieving what critic Walter Kerr has called a "perfect fusion of mind and manner." The selections are based on George Rylands' Shakespeare anthology.

COUNTRYFIED

In the Grand Manner. The fashion for country living, with elegance, seems to be the highest fashion in furniture these days and the Schwartz Furniture Company in New Brunswick has two new lines which exemplify this trend as handsomely as anything we've seen in quite a while.

There are, in case you didn't know, two furniture stores in New Brunswick called "Schwartz." We refer to the one on Carroll Place, off George.

Schwartz has on the floor now "Provincial Gallery" by Henredon, an informal collection which achieves a certain elegance nevertheless. The pieces are cherry with antiqued fruitwood finish and occasional walnut panels or table tops. There is also a finish called "Stonebeige," which is an off-white.

The dining pieces have tapered square legs which set the note of sturdiness combined with charm. The legs are treated classically as though they were Greek.

There is a three-door buffet and a china "deck" which can be set on top of it. The deck has a center display area which is open, and side doors which are panells in a simple manner. Another buffet has seven doors across its 73½-inch length, each panel divided into two rectangles, each rectangle broken at the corner by the intrusion of an overlapping corner. The effect is massive.

A Stonebeige buffet, 52 inches long, has a taverline top with off-white grass cloth panels behind spindles. These panels can be removed and your own fabric inserted. Dining tables are refectory style, usually, although there are oval tables, too.

In the bedroom pieces, a double dresser has intricate detail on its framed drawers, a double bed has spindles under a headboard of shallow scallopes edged with gold. Another headboard has tall figure eights ranged side by side,

Another collection, soon to arrive at Schwartz, is Tomlinson's "Pavane," a group which combines — sometimes in one piece! — 15th century French, the Gothic arch, the panelling of the Renaissance. This isn't quite so alarming as you might think.

What Tomlinson has actually produced is a collection of furniture with a definitely European cast, furniture which can be dressed up with antiqued satins or dressed down with country prints. Woods (and prices!) are top bracket. Pecan, walnut, myrtle hurl, rosewood, yew and butternut have been assembled with genuine artistry, usually in such a way that the resulting piece is rich and golden in hue. There are darker pieces, however.

A 36-inch chest with curving drawer fronts is made of solid pecan with Javanese veneers and Swiss Karelian hurl overlay. The handles are brass.

A hunt board reminiscent of English manor houses, has two

Trimming

At Mary Chapin's dress shop, they go on the theory that sometimes a woman needs denim and sometimes she needs sable. Just the way she needs orange juice and champagne, muffins and caviar.

So you'll find in the shop a faded blue denim shirt dress enlivened just a little bit with red stitching. Plain round collar with pointed tabs, full skirt, a reliable belt made of bright red rope. Wear it anywhere.

Across the room is a Vera Maxwell suit, suave and black, with an interesting option: you can have it with a detachable sable collar if you wish. The notion that sable can be detached or attached at will is delightful to contemplate. We're buying the Maxwell and the denim too. No reason why the collar can't be worn on both.

large and two small drawers with legs formed by the touching of two half circles. The same leg pattern appears in a desk-vanity and an end-table.

"Pavane" has a dining table with forged iron understructure and a top which is a simple slab of wood. A marble-topped sideboard has arched doors with brass grilles. The grilles appear again in a man's chest-ardoire with two shallow dressers at the bottom. Seems much too dramatic for anything so mundane as a pair of socks, but there it is. A shallow two-poster bed might fit into the same spacious country bedroom.

Chapin Dresses Up. The fine tweeds, woolens and corduroys at Mary Chapin's are still there and always will be, but faille, silk and fur have been added to the wardrobe.

Little black suits, the suburban matron's New York uniform, appear in several poses at Miss Chapin's this fall. There is a wool

FILM SERIES TO OPEN

Sponsored by French Club. First in a series of classic French films to be shown this year under sponsorship of the French Club of Princeton University will be "Seven Deadly Sins," which will be presented Tuesday at 8:30 in 10 McCosh Hall. The film, like all others in the series, will have French dialogue and English subtitles. Stars are Michele Morgan, Francoise Rosay, Viviane Romance, Gerard Philippe, Noel-Noel and Henry Vidal. Directors include C. Aulanti-Lara, Roberto Rossellini, and Georges Lacombe.

Other films scheduled for this year's series are: "Panle," with Michel Simon and Viviane Romance; "Symphonie Pastorale," with Michele Morgan and Pierre Blanchard; "The Idiot," with Edwige Fenech and Gerard Philippe; "Spice of Life," with Noel-Noel; "Fanny," with Raimu and Pierre Fresnay; "Justice Is Done," with Claude Nollier; "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," with Jacques Tati, and "Blood of a Poet," by Jean Cocteau.

The films will be shown once a month, on Tuesdays. All showings will be at 8:30 in 10 McCosh Hall. Subscription tickets, at $2.50 each, are available at the Princeton University Store. Individual tickets are 50 cents each.

THE PLAYHOUSE

But Not For Me (October 21-27) is a bright, pleasant comedy in which Clark Gable acts his age and Carroll ("Baby Doll") Baker finally gets around to acting hers. The picture was produced by William Perlberg and George Seaton and they have established much the same atmosphere as prevailed in the highly successful "Teacher's Pet," which also featured Gable. Others in the cast are Lilli Palmer, Lee J. Cobb and Barry Coe.

Gable is a middle-aged play producer whose young secretary (Miss Baker) is in love with him, as, apparently, is his ex-wife (Miss Palmer), who keeps close tabs on him ostensibly to protect her alimony. Gable is flattered by Miss Baker's attentions and, in the early scenes, refuses to admit that he is too old for her. This realization is finally brought about through the efforts of Cobb, an old inebriate who once was a successful playwright. Meanwhile, Miss Baker is wooed by Coe, an aspiring actor.

The dialogue is witty throughout, and the film wisely steers clear of the saccharine seriousness which the situation seems likely to engender from time to time. The fact that the conclusion is telegraphed well before the fadeout is not a very major fault, since getting there is half the fun. "But Not For Me" is in Vista-Vision.

The Man Who Understood Women (October 28-31) is a disappointing comedy which will do nothing to enhance the reputation of Nunnally Johnson, who wrote, produced and directed it. Lavishly staged in CinemaScope and color, with lots of expensive location scenes in the south of France thrown in, the picture is staffed by Leslie Caron, Henry Fonda, Cesare Danova and Myron McCormick, among others.

Miss Caron, who has happily cast aside her schoolgirl attire and looks a little more womanly and alluring than usual, is a young actress who has been made a star by Hollywood Magnate Fonda and is now his wife. This suits her fine, except for the fact that Fonda, being A Genius, has neither the time nor the inclination to give her the husbandly affection she apparently feels her new appearance deserves. Thus, finding herself pretty and neglected on the Mediterranean, she engages in a most un-Gigi-like liaison with the dark-haired, heavy-breathing Mr. Danova. Fonda, who learns of the affair while in the throes of a hangover, orders a pair of hired toughs to eliminate Danova.

This is rather unlikely material for comedy, but Johnson has contributed some witty dialogue which keeps things from becoming absolutely macabre. The acting by all the principals except McCormick is a little too straight-faced to give rise to any unrestrained hilarity and Fonda, in particular, acts as if he has just finished a low-key television detective show and hasn't had time to switch moods.

THE GARDEN

The Snapegoat (October 20-21) is a bitter and not entirely successful adaptation of the novel by Daphne du Maurier. Its strongest assets are a remarkable performance by Alec Guinness, who plays two roles, and a brief but moving appearance by Bette Davis. Gore Vidal and Robert Hamer prepared the script and Hamer directed. The film was partially shot on location in France.

Guinness, no stranger to multiple roles (he played 12 in "Kind Hearts and Coronets"), portrays an English professor on vacation in Paris and a French nobleman whom the professor strongly resembles. The professor is tricked into taking over the identity of the nobleman, a part he plays so well that he completely deceives the nobleman's family and friends. The remainder of the story concerns the means by which the depths of the family's problems and depravities are revealed to the professor, and the characters touched on here are interesting enough that it's a shame there is not enough time to develop them fully. The basic premise of the film—that one man could completely fill the role of another on the basis of nothing more than physical resemblance—is, of course, wholly implausible, but this is nothing new to students of Guinness' past films. Viewers who are prepared to suspend disbelief for the scenes in which the premise is established should find the picture a rather fascinating daydream.

The Magician (October 27-31) is the latest effort by writer-director Ingmar Bergman, whose excellent "Wild Strawberries" ran at the Garden earlier in the month. Like its predecessor, "The Magician" is a work of high art, elevated by Bergman's careful attention both to performance and to technical matters. The all-Swedish cast includes Max von Sydow, Ingrid Thulin, Gunnar Bjornstrand, Bengt Ekerot and Bibi Andersson. The film is in Swedish with English titles.

The story is set in mid-19th century Sweden, where a theatrical troupe headed by von Sydow is traveling after beating a necessarily hasty retreat from Denmark. Along the way, they run into some trouble with a local police chief, who wants a command performance, and other authorities of a small town. Von Sydow, the magician of the title, causes a furor when he hypnotizes the police chief's wife, and a minor twist ending is provided by a corpse who refuses to play dead. As in "Wild Strawberries," however, the surface story is of minimal importance, the real meat of the film coming in the subtle and definitive delineation of character by all the leading players. Because the theme of "The Magician" is more diffuse than that of "Wild Strawberries," the film does not pack quite the cumulative punch that the earlier one did. Still it is a rewarding picture and several notches above ordinary foreign fare. Recommended.

ties and expansion of all major services in such a way that the rate of expenditure for these improvements will not exceed the rate of population increase; and (2) land use regulations providing ample room for desirable research and business rateables; and a balancing out of residential zones of varying population density."

Supporting the accomplishments of the present Republican administration in the Township "in incorporating the foregoing into the Master Plan," the GOP candidates also pointed to steady progress in the field of recreation. Provision in the Plan will carry out the recommendations of the Joint Citizens Advisory Committee, while the recently-appointed Board of Recreation Commissioners will proceed with the program, they asserted. Joint action with the Borough in this field is advocated.

On another aspect of future recreational planning, Messrs. Cook and Mount declare:

"We shall, if elected, make every effort to complete the pending negotiations for acquiring Community Gardens and other needed properties for the past and recreation program." Completion of the transaction, once existing legal matters have been solved, is predicted "in the reasonably near future." The GOP candidates also promise "to work for the acquisition or preservation of as much open land as possible, for both organized and unorganized recreation."

For a further campaign statement and biographical sketches of the two Republican sets, page 20.

MALE REPORTS PROGRESS

Cites Long-Range Planning. Declaring that "the future of Princeton is the greatest single problem facing Borough government today," Mayor Raymond F. Male said in his campaign for re-election this week that his administration has worked to re-examine "the multitude of unsolved problems inherited from past years: problems involving housing, urban renewal, street patterns and inadequate rateables in a community where the majority of property is tax exempt."

Rejecting "sweep-gun decisions" which would, in effect, "sweep the problems under the rug with fast superficial solutions," that Princeton Borough would outgrow in a few years," he emphasized his belief that "responsible government does not operate this way."

Children to Benefit

The Princeton UNICEF committee is planning a Halloween drive for the benefit of the United Nation's Children Fund. Boys and girls from the seventh grade up plan to "trick or treat" every home in Princeton October 31 in hopes of raising more than $1000 for needy children throughout the world.

The young people who will carry on the campaign will attend a rally at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday evening and will see a film about the work of UNICEF overseas. The United Nations International Children's Fund was established in 1946 as an agency of UN General Assembly to care for the food, clothing, and health of two-thirds of the world's children. Co-chairmen of the UNICEF committee are Maxine Cantrell and Eleanor Hamilton, while Mrs. Harold E. Davis and the Rev. F. C. Huntington are the auditors.

He continued: "Although money had been budgeted for this purpose prior to my taking office, the funds from the preceding year had lapsed without a professional planning consultant being appointed. The need was real. The need has now been met."

"We have a contract (with Federal matching funds) for a 18-month period with a highly-qualified expert who is giving priority to 17 specific areas. They include: updating the Master Plan; rezoning for apartment housing; study of our fiscal structure; examination of land values and assessment ratios; and the development of a capital building program in the light of school, library and other building needs."

McKENNA APPOINTED

To Assist Purcell, Dr. John J. McKenna has been appointed assistant superintendent of Township schools. He will continue as principal of Valley Road School. The Board of Education said it was naming Dr. McKenna to the new post "to relieve the superintendent, William D. Purcell, of the heavy overload of work created by the addition of a complex building program to his ordinary heavy duties in the rapidly expanding Township school system."

The board also authorized Mr. Purcell to nominate an "administrative intern"—an experienced teacher who has done graduate work in school administration—to assist Dr. McKenna in supervising grades one through six. Dr. McKenna will continue to have full responsibility for grades seven and eight, but will be given enough assistance to permit him to devote about two days a week to assisting Mr. Purcell.

Mr. Purcell said that Dr. McKenna will probably assume major responsibility for transportation, preparation of preliminary school budgets, pupil census, enrollment forecasts and development of a plan necessary for obtaining Federal funds under the National Defense Education Act. In other action, the board accepted the resignation of George Dixon, who has accepted an appointment as principal of the Lawrenceville Elementary School. Mrs. Margaret Riedel was appointed as home instruction teacher. Board president William Wilser appointed a special committee on school sites composed of Leonard Hymerling, chairman, Richard Pearson and John Donal.

The board will hold its annual dinner for teachers and staff at the new ETS building, Hoesdale Road, on Thursday, October 29. Mrs. Robert Sinkler is chairman of the affair. Her assistants are Mrs. William Van Winkle and Mrs. Jess Epstein.

With Record Advance Gifts.

The 1959 United Community Fund drive opened last week with $29,250 pledged in advance gifts. John M. Reeder, campaign chairman, reported this total was the highest for advance gifts since the United campaign began.

All but $2,000 of the advance gifts were pledged through the fund's Special Gifts Division, which is seeking to raise $100,000 of the fund's total goal of $212,000. The division is headed by Clement V. Conole, chairman, and Robert Dilley and Frank Taplin, co-chairmen.

The remaining $2,000 came from the campaign of the Business Division. This division's Palmer

Square Shopping Day has produced $1,635.37, contributed by 27 stores and firms which gave the fund 25 percent of the day's gross income.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy H. Clark, co-chairmen of neighborhood solicitation, reported 100 percent attendance of 15 area coordinators at an organizational meeting at their home Sunday. This division, with a goal of $25,000, will solicit 2,500 individuals. The 300 volunteer workers will begin their canvass on Friday and will continue house-to-house solicitation until November 6.

GIRL IN FATAL ACCIDENT

Eight-Year Old Dies. Terry Lewis, 8, of Roosevelt was fatally injured when she was struck by an automobile Monday afternoon on the Roosevelt-Clarksburg Road near Hightstown.

Three operations were performed at Princeton Hospital between 6 p.m. Monday and Tuesday morning. She died that afternoon at 1:55 of injuries that included a fractured skull and a ruptured spleen.

The child was playing in front of her home when the accident occurred. State Police identified the driver of the car as Arthur Sutton, 36, of Roosevelt.

RUMMAGE SALE TO START

Tuesday at Fire House. Starting Tuesday, which will be sales day for furniture, rugs and kitchenware from 10 to 5, the Princeton Hospital Aid Committee's semi-annual rummage sale will begin at the Harrison Street fire house. On Wednesday, shoes, books and toys will be sold from 10 to 5 and on Thursday, clothing, bric-a-brac, jewelry and all other items will be sold from 9:30 to 8.

Pickup of furniture or other large items will take place only on Monday and can be arranged by calling Mrs. John W. Brown, WA 4-2215, or Mrs. William Vandewater, WA 4-0956. All proceeds of the sale go directly to the hospital, the Committee having made a pledge in May of $30,000 to build and equip the school of practical nursing, an addition to Lambert House.

Mrs. Nathan Hower is president of the Hospital Aid Committee which in its 41 years has grown from an "attic shop," which operated on Chambers street from 1927 to 1940, to a committee that now holds semi-annual rummage sales, operates a gift and food shop in the hospital and participates in the annual hospital fête. Mrs. Brown, the vice-president, is in charge of the rummage sale.

SMITH CLUB PLANS TEA

For Prospective Students. Girls interested in attending Smith College are invited to a tea at 4:30 on Tuesday at the home of Miss Alice Smith, 30 Hodge Road. The event will be sponsored by the Smith College Club of Princeton.

Miss Jane Sehnann, the college's director of admission, will be present to show slides of life at Smith and to answer questions. Miss Sehnann will also speak at a regular meeting of the Smith College Club at 1 on the same day at the home of Mrs. Humbolt Leverenz, 35 Westcott Road.

EDUCATION PARLEY SET

By PTA's and ETS. "The Future of Higher Education in New Jersey" will be the subject for discussion Tuesday at 8 in the Valley Road School auditorium. The meeting, which is open to all those interested, is sponsored by the Township PTA's and Educational Testing Service.

Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger, state commissioner of education, will be the speaker. A long-time advocate of increased facilities for higher education, he has been commissioner for seven years.

A SHOT FOR $1

Polio Clinic Tuesday. The Princeton Hospital's monthly polio clinic will be held in the outpatient department this Tuesday from 4 to 5. First, second, third and booster shots will be given for $1 each. Last month's clinic brought only 110 people, as compared to 473 in July and 286 in August.

The third polio case in Mercer County this year was reported late in September by the National Foundation. The victim was a Trenton four-year-old who had received no shots. The Foundation has emphasized the importance of obtaining all four shots for full protection.

LICENSE LOST

For Speeding. Adrian Allhouse, 22, Carter Road, and two residents of Trenton had their licenses revoked 30 days for speeding by Township Magistrate Louis R. Gerber Tuesday night.

All were checked by radar as traveling more than 60 miles an hour on Mercer Road. Gerber imposed $5 court costs, and also fined Edward H. Doan, 20, 12 Titus Avenue, $14 for going 57 miles an hour in the same 50-mile zone.

ACCIDENT REPORT

Driverless Car Crosses Nassau. Vincent Cappelli, 29, of Freehold was startled Tuesday morning to see a car cross Nassau Street and crash into his, parked on Nassau Street.

Police said Mrs. Constance Loux, 43, 15 Murray Place, had stopped in the driveway of Turney Motors and had left her car with the emergency brake not fully on. It rolled backward, across Nassau Street, only to stop after striking Mr. Cappelli's car.

Obituaries

Dr. Milton Friedman, 61, 11 Vandeventer Avenue, died October 20 in Princeton Hospital. A member of the Mercer County Dental Society, he had his office at 163 Nassau Street. He was a former Trenton resident.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hattie Friedman; a daughter, Mrs. Allan Patricof; and five sisters, Mrs. William Reich and Miss Hazel Friedman, both of Trenton, Mrs. Harry Robinson of Somerville, Mrs. Regina Karniol of New York City, and Mrs. Mildred Freed of San Diego, Calif.

Rabbi Solomon Poll officiated at the funeral in Trenton. Interment was in Ahavath Israel Cemetery.

Mrs. Lucy J. Pelham, 53, of 8 Shirley Court, died October 14 in Princeton Hospital. The wife of William C. Pelham, she was born in Hightstown and was a member of the Witherspoon Lodge of Elks.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a sister, Miss Mary Blake of Burlington, and a niece. The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home with the Rev. Yancy L. Sims officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

James Toole, 88, died October 20 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John M. Moore, 849 State Road. A resident of Princeton for the past 30 years, he had been employed by the Department of Grounds and Buildings at Princeton University.

Born in Paisley, Scotland, Mr. Toole was the husband of the late Jane B. Toole. Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Moore, include another daughter, Mrs. Janet B. Bergen of Princeton; three sons, David and William of Princeton and Archibald of Pennington; ten grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

The service will be held at the Kimble Funeral Home at 2:30 Thursday, with the Rev. David L. Crawford, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Princeton Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

William C. Pelham and Family wish to thank their many friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy.

Loses Control Making Turn. Mrs. Barbara Rhodes, 24, 188 Kendall Road, Franklin Park, lost control of her car as she was making a turn off Nassau Street onto Harrison, and struck a public service pole. Her six-month old son, Scott Rhodes, was knocked out of his bassinet and suffered a slight cut and bruise under his left eye. Taken to the Princeton Hospital, he was treated by Dr. Russo and released.

Mrs. Rhodes said that the car's steering wheel was loose. Police in checking the car, found too much play in the steering column and charged Mrs. Rhodes with driving on unsafe vehicle. Later a municipal court she pleaded not guilty to the charge which Magistrate Tams dismissed.

SEE THE STARS

At University Observatory. Children and adults are invited to the season's first "open house" at Princeton University's observatory, located at 14 Prospect Street, next Thursday at 8.

Charles Kennel, a graduate student in the astronomy department, will be on hand to point out various heavenly phenomena. In case of rain, slides will be shown.

CAKES FOR SALE

On Saturday, Khufu Court, No. 118, Daughters of Isis, will hold a bake sale this Saturday at 181 Witherspoon Street.

Those who wish to place orders may do so by calling WA 4-5606 or WA 4-2338.

PARADE, DINNER LISTED

By Lawrenceville Firemen. The Lawrenceville Fire Company No. 3 will sponsor a Halloween parade October 30 at 8. The parade, which will begin at the Lawrenceville elementary school and end at the fire house, is opened to all residents of District 3 in Lawrence Township.

The fire company is also accepting reservations for a roast beef supper at the fire house which will be held on election night, November 3. Reservations for 5:30, 6:30 or 7:30 may be made by calling Mrs. John Maple, TW 6-0465-M. Dinners to take out may be picked up at the fire house from 5 to 8.

CITE TOWN SERVICES

In Lawrence Township. Expanded municipal services, together with "an outstanding favorable tax climate," were cited as reasons for their re-election in a statement sent to Lawrence Township voters this week by Lloyd A. Carver and Charles E. Connell, Jr., Democratic candidates for re-election to the Township Committee. The candidates said that they are pledged to continue the financial policies "responsible for Lawrence Township's excellent municipal services."

Pointing out that Lawrence Township's population grew from 8,490 to 12,823, an increase of 50 percent, in the period from 1950 to 1958, Messrs. Carver and Connell said that the Democratic Township Committee had expanded the municipal services to meet the needs of the rapidly growing population. These expanded services, the candidates said, were made possible by "sound financial policies," including "thrifty budgeting, careful control of approved expenditures, accurate assessing to assure fairness to all taxpayers, and an efficient tax collection system to keep tax delinquency down to a minimum."

Action Sought on Prospect.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

If Princeton Township and a Princeton Borough were separated by a great distance or communication was difficult — then "misunderstanding" would be normal. Since such is not true, I think we are entitled to the truth.

Prospect Avenue has long been a topic of interest and discussion in the Township. At the October 32nd meeting of the Township Committee, it was announced that Mayor Male had promised that Prospect would be on the Borough Council agenda. According to Mayor Male it was another "misunderstanding," and in a discussion with his Borough Engineer it will be next summer before Prospect can be put enough, if then.

On April 1, 1937, Mr. J. A. Lahuel, then chairman of the Township Planning Board, stated that chances for an exit on Prospect were slim because the Borough showed inertia regarding the development of the street to the Township line.

After two and one-half years of "inertia and misunderstanding" on the part of the Borough, perhaps the Borough would be to furnish tranquillizers to all of us who have tried to get some action, then we could join them in their state of euphoria!

LOUISE P. DODGE
(Mrs. Wm. B. Dodge)

641 Lake Drive

(Editor's note: Township Committee believes that the Riverside area should be "opened up" by extending to Harrison such streets as Sycamore in the Township and Prospect, in Borough and Township. Both streets are parallel to Nassau. Some Township residents feel that the Borough is needlessly delaying the opening up of Prospect, and that the Borough should have extended Prospect at the same time the Township put through Sycamore.)

Complicated Confusion

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

Confusing? One week, NO PARKING; the following Monday, a proposal to add 118 cars seeking parking in this identical area!

For one week, the meters on Moore Street from Nassau to Park Place were capped for NO PARKING. I was told at Borough Hall that this was done to relieve the congestion of Nassau School traffic. On Oct. 12, Monday, following the week of no parking, I received a letter requesting a waiver of the Borough parking ordinance, to allow 118 cars to park on the street in this same area, so that a new five-story office building could be erected on Nassau Street directly across from Nassau School.

The ordinance calls for 118 parking spaces for this building, and they have not even one.

To accommodate 118 cars, every meter from Moore Street to Palmer Square, on both sides of Nassau, would be occupied. By my count, there are 62 on one side of Nassau, 57 on the opposite side, totaling 119.

Certainly this addition to traffic involves a greater number of people and merchants than have received requests for this waiver.

It is difficult to get at the roots of many problems, but these are potential roots that should be eliminated to spare us enlargement of our present traffic problem. The vision of a double line of cars parked on both sides of Nassau from Moore Street to Palmer Square is not a pleasant one.

Agreement Non-Existent

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We note in the last Town Topics that our opponents in the Township campaign have accused us of "irresponsibility" and "lack of knowledge as to how to get things done in Princeton." This refers to our earlier statement of views on consolidation. We are charged with failure to honor an agreement not to discuss the matter.

We are unaware of any such agreement and would never approve one if offered. No important question for the people of Princeton should be banned from public discussion by anyone. If to do so is the way "to get things done in Princeton," then our political workways should be re-examined.

HENRY S. DYER
RICHARD T. FROST

Republicans' Charge False

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

I am obliged to correct publicly a serious misstatement of fact appearing in the recent statement of the Republican candidates for the Township Committee in which they heaped criticism upon Messrs. Dyer and Frost, having mentioned consolidation. This misstatement is the crux of the case which they seek to use to establish a breach of faith on my part as well as on that of Dyer and Frost.

The statement in question is: "... leading members of both parties from both Borough and Township governing bodies ...

agreed at that time that because of certain actions pending on this subject (consolidation), they would urge their candidates to avoid stressing it in their respective campaigns. It appears certain that this request and the reasons for it, reached our opponents."

This statement is patently untrue. There was agreement that "certain actions" which had been discussed would be postponed until after the campaign, but there was absolutely no agreement concerning what the candidates in the election this fall would or would not be asked to do.

I could clearly not have been a party to such agreement because, stemming from discussions with Henry Dyer and Dick Frost last spring when they agreed to run, I knew of their deep interest in Standing in front of the choir on the McCarter Theatre stage are, left to right, Harold Hedgpeth, director of the choir; Herbert W. stand on a question of central importance to Princeton, I wonder how I escaped so lightly last year. During the 1958 campaign I published a statement on consolidation in much the same vein as that of Dyer and Frost. What comment I received was favorable and there was no suggestion that I had destroyed the cause by mentioning it.

What distresses me most concerning this false charge from the Republican candidates is not only the impugning of the motives and the sense of public responsibility of Henry Dyer, Dick Frost and myself. It is also that one finds in the tone and spirit of this attack the same hand at work that was responsible for the Republican campaign, against me one year ago—a campaign which was as undignified as it was unsuccessful.

As examples of the municipal services provided in Lawrence Township, Messrs. Carver and Connell cited an 18-man, uniformed police force, providing 24-hour protection seven days a week; approximately 65 miles of municipal streets and roads, most of which have improved surfaces; speedy snow removal service; twice-weekly garbage collection; health services; rapid expansion of utilities such as water and sewage disposal; and an active recreation program, including five summer playgrounds, cold weather projects and the development of a 16-acre township park.

SPECIAL PROGRAM PLANNED
For Children's Book Week. The children's department of the Princeton Public Library is sponsoring a special program in connection with Children's Book Week (November 1-7) which will be held Thursday, November 5 at 3:30, at the Garden Theatre.

Philip Becker, a storyteller from the New York Public Library, will tell the story of "How The Whale Got His Throat" by Rudyard Kipling and an Irish folk-fairy tale. Mrs. Jean Fritz, the author of "Fish Head," "Cabin Faces West," "Late Spring," and "Pudding Spring," will speak on her books.

The audience will also meet Princeton area authors and illustrators of children's books. Following the program, which is scheduled to run for an hour, the children will meet Mr. Becker, Mrs. Fritz and the other authors in the lobby. Ushering duties will be handled by members of the Girl Scouts.

Why I Plan to Vote REPUBLICAN DEMOCRATIC

By CONSTANCE B. MADRIDA

By R. W. VAN DE VELDE

There are many reasons why I think one should, and why I certainly will vote, on November 3, for Orren Jack Turner, the Republican candidate for Mayor of the Borough of Princeton. All of these reasons, however, seem to reduce themselves to one important conclusion and that is the necessity for replacing a "Democratic Everything, Do Nothing" administration with one led by such a qualified candidate as Jack Turner.

With the exception of a few years, Jack Turner has been a lifelong resident of Princeton. Therefore he has the inherent advantage of knowing both the problems of the past and the opportunity of anticipating the inevitable problems of the future of a growing community.

He is a former President of the Princeton Business Association. The record of his accomplishments in this office is proof of his keen interest in Princeton and also of his ability to "get things done." He is a direct and forthright person who does not have higher political aspirations, but is very much at heart, and I firmly believe that he would accomplish those things that he proposes in a prompt and efficient manner.

It is not difficult — in fact, it is frighteningly easy — to find what appears to me to be obvious examples of the inability of the present Borough administration to take this prompt and decisive action that is so necessary in this constantly-growing community. For example, they have been unable to make up their minds on many important appointments, thereby leaving some vacancies on boards which then find themselves unable to operate efficiently. In fact, there is still a vacancy in an important department, which could have been filled months ago but which has been left vacant for no apparent reason.

There has been no decisive action with regard to Urban Renewal and this was promised in the platform of two years ago. The tendency to put aside these problems is not improving conditions in those areas that have so long been under consideration. Anyone can drive down to this area and still see the same houses which were to have been replaced. These are houses still without indoor plumbing. Does it not seem time to make the decisions that will improve these conditions?

Of course it is not possible to make decisions that will please everyone, but it appears to me that a policy of affirmative action is far more constructive for the welfare of our community than a policy of delay, linger and wait.

These are just a few of the things which we were promised by a Democratic administration and which we are still waiting for. I am sure you can name many other things.

This record of delay and inaction is not one to give me confidence in the government of my town. In fact it worries me. This is your town and I am sure you like it and want to see things — Continued on Page 22

I intend to vote for Raymond F. Male for Mayor of the Borough of Princeton for several reasons. First, he is a Democrat and I am a Democrat and the strength of any national party begins at the grass roots level.

I believe it is mistaken to think of local elections solely in terms of local issues. Unless there are marked changes in the philosophies of the major parties, or compelling reasons for voting for or against a certain candidate, regardless of party, I expect I shall always vote the Democratic ticket.

On the other hand, if there is any interest in this column particularly for Princeton readers, it must be more precisely why one citizen believes Raymond Male has been a good Mayor and will continue to be a good Mayor of Princeton. He brought "open government" to Princeton as he promised he would. No longer are questions of considerable importance to all the citizens of Princeton decided by their elected representatives in the seclusion of private rooms.

Ray Male has invited the public to speak to him as individuals in his "Tell it to the Mayor" policy, and he has invited the public at large to attend Council Meetings. Moreover, when individual citizens have exhibited interest in a particular matter, more often than not Ray Male has invited those individuals to appear and speak for themselves at the appropriate Council and Committee meetings in the Borough.

Almost no ordinance enacted or action taken by the Council and Mayor will please all the citizens of the Borough. But no one can say that the citizens have not had their chance to be heard since Ray Male has been Mayor of this town.

This insistence that all sides be heard, that all views be considered, has led some with special interests to decry the time which has been spent on certain issues such as urban renewal. But Mayor Male believes all factions have an equal right "to petition the Government for a redress of grievances;" he believes in the democratic process. He knows as well as anyone that this process takes time; he believes the rights thus protected are worth the time thus spent. The Mayor is, however, also an experienced and able executive. He recognizes that beyond a certain point further discussion becomes aimless repetition, and all of us who have watched have seen him quietly but forcefully take the lead in steering a debated issue toward an acceptable solution.

During Mr. Male's incumbency no Borough services have been reduced, several have been improved. The Fire Department has obtained new equipment; the Police and Fire emergency radio communication net has been strengthened.

The Police Department has been professionally surveyed and changes have been made to improve the quality of protection it provides the Borough. Civil Defense, which had become moribund, is being revived. With all this Borough lives have been reduced twice.

Report from THE MAYOR

Saturday Session. At a special Saturday morning session, the Council heard the report of the Borough Attorney and Borough Engineer concerning the Hamilton Avenue sidewalk project. The ordinance had been passed at Tuesday's meeting, but bids for seven items had exceeded the appropriated funds.

On recommendation of the Borough Attorney, the Council adopted a resolution awarding the contract to the low bidder on five of the seven items. The remaining work—cleaning the site and doing the final grading of driveways—will be done by Borough forces.

Moving Permits. Also on Saturday, the Council introduced an ordinance to provide for moving permits in the Borough. The Finance Committee strongly feels that such an ordinance will prevent the long-standing practice of "writing off" personal property taxes which are uncollectible.

A public hearing on the proposal is scheduled for the regular November meeting of Mayor and Council on Tuesday, November 10, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall. The staff of the Collector's office strongly urges the ordinance and points to similar requirements in many New Jersey towns. No fee would be required for the permit.

Planning the Future. Another in the series of special Planning Board sessions devoted exclusively to an exchange of views with the Borough's consultant planner is scheduled for Monday at 8 p.m. in the Witherspoon Building. Members of the Council have been invited to sit in on these thought-provoking meetings because ultimately the decisions on the master plan, zoning ordinance changes, and many other major items will be theirs to make.

Dogs Must Have Shots

All dogs in the Borough and Township who have not received rabies shots this year must be inoculated before they can be licensed in 1960, and health departments of the two municipalities have announced the schedule for free rabies vaccinations.

Shots will be given from 4-6 p.m. daily during the week of October 26. The schedule:

Monday: Rear of Borough Hall.

Tuesday: Township Garage, Wednesday: Chestnut St. Firehouse.

Thursday: Township Garage.
Friday: Borough Garage, North Harrison.

Our consultant planner usually spends the first hour presenting facts and suggestions with respect to his assignments. The balance of the evening is devoted to a frank discussion of alternatives from which the consultant can get clues and guidelines for his continuing study.

On the Calendar. Last week, in addition to two meetings of Mayor and Council, the Mayor attended a special meeting of the Borough Safety Committee to complete action on proposals for the Nassau Street school area, met with the Trustees of the Public Library, took part in the 125th birthday celebration of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company, and joined the Township Mayor in signing a proclamation calling attention to United Nations Day on October 24th. The proclamation signing was arranged by Mrs. M. E. Gottlieb, President of the League of Women Voters, who presented the Mayors with copies of a story of the UN written by a League observer. (Editor's note: See picture, page 20.)

Open House. The regular weekly "Tell it to the Mayor" session will be held on Friday, October 23; Thursday, October 29; and Thursday, November 5, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings.

Week after week, these open house sessions have brought constructive suggestions on a wide variety of subjects. Certainly the views expressed have been most helpful in shaping the policy and in handling the day to day administration of Borough government.

PROCLAIMING UNITED NATIONS DAY: This Saturday has been proclaimed United Nations Day in Princeton Borough and Township, and to commemorate the event, Mrs. Melvin Gottlieb, president of the Princeton League of Women Voters, presents a new League publication to R. Kenneth Fairman (left), mayor of the Township, and Raymond F. Male, mayor of the Borough. The pamphlet is "The United Nations... A Candid Appraisal," by Mrs. Oscar Ruebhausen, official League representative to the United Nations for 13 years. (Alan Richards Photo.)

It's New To Us

crepe dress with high scoop neck, three-quarter sleeve and self-button at the deep yoke. The jacket to cover all this has a small black velvet collar.

Slim black faille has little hip pleats at each side, a small black bow at each side of the neckline and little short sleeves. The jacket is short and simple, too.

Black shantung has been combined with coffee silk and champagne silk in a dress for somebody who's tired of nothing but black. The black jacket has a framed pocket and a framed collar and something that looks like framing down the front.

The price range on these black dresses is about $32 to $60.

Another silky on the Chapin rack is the olive and aqua print, fully lined, with boat neck and curving self belt. For $24, you may have a Grecian thing in beige or red with a short, full pleated skirt, a cummerbund and a surprise bodice. Looks as though it were made of chiffon, but it's not.

Winter cottons, always useful, are the color of autumn leaves. There's a wine dress with full skirt, roll-up sleeves and wide pointed collar, the print rich and dark. Comes also in olive or grey-brown.

Mary Chapin likes an angora hat — well, it's something you wear on your head, anyway. It's like a stocking cap in shape, or lack of it, and you wear it cuffed or straight like a cloche or sloped like a beret. Comes in smoky blue, cinnamon or black for $2.95.

After you get home, put on an overblouse that looks like velvet, but is really a kind of brushed cotton. Purple, lime, coral or black, and just yearning for washing machine or dryer. Wear it with sand-colored corduroy pants, good and tight.

"Die, Earth Man." When Halloween comes, we're going to be an Earth Raider with a cyclops mask in green and chartreuse. It was a hard decision, when you consider the limitless possibilities of "Mr. Muscles" and "Sparkly Gypsy Girl" to say nothing of Rin-Tin-Tin. The cast has been assembled at Zinder's and you'd better decide on your role or the curtain will go up and catch you as nothing better than an Earth Man.

Boxed costumes at Zinder's will turn you into a senorita, a glittery witch (whatever that is), Captain Satellite, Boney the Skeleton (fatten him up with trick-or-treat cookies) or Paladin.

In the mask collection, there is a real horror which turns out to be, on closer examination, merely Groucho Marx. An Ubangi slave mask looks good, but what about a costume? A well-dressed Ubangi would be pretty cold in Princeton on Halloween. There's an Indian chief, thirsting for good Custer blood and a splendid green and yellow death's head.

In the accessory department, you'll find the usual dissecting room stuff: infected toes, broken fingers, claws, cauliflower ears and the like. Buy nose putty and do-it-yourself, buy make-up and paint yourself a clown. Buy four-inch-long plastic loop earrings in orange or black and tell the fortune of some grubby little palm.

Our favorite in the Zinder collection of boo-boxes is the costume box that has, stamped on the side: "Spooky" Ghost (small: 4-6).

ELECTION-TIME NEARS: Princeton Township residents were asked this week by TOWN TOPICS' Inquiring Reporter to tell how they plan to vote on November 3. Long-time Princetonian Arthur J. Tighe is for the Democrats, and so are others questioned, but it's by no means unanimous. Next week, Borough residents will have their say here.

Question of the Week

Question: For whom will you vote for Township Committeeman in coming election and why?

Where asked: Around the Township.

Mrs. Richard Schech, 159 Valley Road, housewife: I plan to vote for Cook and Mount because I think the Republican-sponsored program as planned and carried out by the Township committee is an excellent one and should be continued for the benefit of the whole community. I think their plans for recreational programs are excellent; their leadership in trying to effect the joint library (which, by the way, was delayed by a Democratic mayor) is good. Their present plans to bring in acceptable industry will be advantageous tax-wise to the Township residents.

John R. Yost, 150 Loomis Court, chemical engineer: I support Bill Marvel last year, even though I am a registered Republican, on the basis that he was the best qualified candidate and that two-party representation is something the community should have. The other night I went to a coffee hour at the Gordon's home on Lake Avenue and heard Cook and Mount. I think these coffee hours are good because it gives one the chance to discuss the issues informally without the candidates being on a platform and having to give a succinct reply. I'd hate to commit myself at this time because I haven't had a chance to discuss the issues with the Democratic candidates. I will get this chance next week at a similar coffee hour at the Kraft's home on Ridgeway Road.

Mrs. Laurence B. Holland, 79 Deer Path, housewife: I plan to vote for Frost and Dyer because only the Democrats seem to have the good sense to realize that Princeton is no longer a village and to make plans for a sensible future for the community.

E. N. Stratton, 374 Franklin Avenue, assistant to a registrar of Princeton University: I expect to vote and I'll go along with Frost and Dyer. My only reason is that I know Dick Frost personally. This isn't their fault, it's mine. It's just human nature to lean toward someone you know. If I find out or become convinced that the Republicans could do a better job, then I'll vote for them. I'll vote for anybody that'll bring Township taxes down.

Mrs. Les Sedlitz, 50 Ten-Ar Place, housewife: I only plan to vote on the school bond referendum. At the moment I haven't looked into the platform or the personalities in the election for Township committeeman. I feel the issues are more important than the people.

John Callaway, 610 Snowden Lane, research development manager: I don't care whether the Republicans or the Democrats get elected. The party which offers the best long-range planning will get my vote. I want to know what each has to say on the library issue, consolidation, sewerage, and future housing developments in the Township. My decision will be made at the last minute.

Mr. Willis L'heureux, 279 Western Way, housewife: I plan to vote for Cook and Mount. I've met them and heard them speak and I think they have a logical explanation for their activities on the Committee. I think they are both capable men.

Robert Sinker, 307 Witherspoon Street, athletic trainer: Largely, I am a Democrat and the reason why I'd like to see Dyer and Frost get elected is because of their platform for consolidation and their liberal policies on recreation and continued encouragement and enticements of small businesses to come to the Township. I think they are more experimental than conservative in their viewpoints. The conservative viewpoint of the Republicans has given us nothing and I think it's time for a change.

Arthur J. Tighe, 684 Prospect Avenue Extension, accountant: I'm going to vote for Dyer and Frost because I'm a Democrat party man and because I think a change in the party in the Township would be for the good of the Township residents. I would like to see the Democrats have a voice in some of the BIC issues in planning for the future of the Township.

Mrs. Clifford Lumar, 192 Loomis Court, housewife: Because the matter of the consolidation of Princeton Township and Princeton Borough into one municipality is the basic concern of all those who are thoughtfully involved in the future of Princeton, I am for the candidates in the Township who have openly come out for it. They are Dick Frost and Henry Dyer. After these two candidates made their statement for consolidation as the only reasonable approach to the future, an editorial appeared in the "Packet" accusing them of being irresponsible and of lacking knowledge of how to get things done in Princeton. I feel that no important question should be banned from the public. Free and open discussion leads the way to action in this country. No one, it seems to me, has the right to decide which issues shall or shall not be acted on. I have heard the Republicans candidates say in private that they are for consolidation and I find it hard to understand why they did not come out for it publicly. It would then be firmly established as a non-partisan issue of the foremost importance. Sniping at Henry Dyer and Dick Frost for making their open statement for consolidation, accusing them of a breach of promise when there could be no reason for a promise not to mention consolidation. Denying that Democratic candidates don't know how to get things done—all this leads me to think that the Republicans are desperately trying to bury the issue of consolidation which to me, is the most pressing and vital issue before us.

so many headaches it had been tabled—or perhaps “swept under the rug” would be more apt. Mayor Male and the Democratic Council faced up to the situation, brought the issue out into the light again. It is not yet solved, but every interested faction knows that it is under consideration and, what's more, knows what other factions think about it. It is one of the most vexing problems facing the Town and its government, but at last it is being faced openly and fairly.

For believing in “open government” and making it work for improving government services and reducing taxes, for fairness to all, for demonstrated ability and tireless devotion to his duties, Ray Male is my candidate for Mayor.

done to make it a better place to live in for everyone.

One particular worry to me is the apparent deterioration of relationship between the Borough and the Township. It is essential for our respective governing bodies to work together in close harmony so that they can readily solve the many closely connected problems that are so vital in our society and happiness.

It has become obvious to me that instead of becoming more closely integrated there has developed a wider chasm between these two governing bodies in the last two years. This is not comforting.

In looking at the future I would like to see us emerge from this period of lethargy and inactivity and enter into a new phase of energetic, direct and decisive government of our town and I feel sure we will have this kind of government under the able leadership of Orren Jack Turner.

REUNION SCHEDULED

By PHS 1941. The class of 1941 at Princeton High School will hold a dinner-dance Saturday, November 7, at the Nassau Inn. The event will begin at 6 and continue until 1.

The planning committee includes: Mrs. Jean Harris Mason, Mrs. Janet Toole Bodine, Mrs. Dorothy Titus Silvester, Thomas Moran, Robert Nelson, Paul Ashton and Morris Dannagher.

BRYN MAWR IN PRINCETON

Groups Hear College Speakers.

Through arrangements made by the Bryn Mawr College Club, various organizations in Princeton will share in the college's 75th anniversary by inviting Bryn Mawr alumnae or faculty members to address their meetings.

Nathaniel Mellink, chairman of Bryn Mawr's department of classical archaeology, will speak Tuesday to the Princeton Chapter of the Archaeological Institute of America on “The Impact of the Nomad on the Ancient World.”

Other Bryn Mawr speakers scheduled for the year include Miss Germaine Dine, who will dress the College Club on existentialism on January 18; Emily Kimbrough, who will speak to the Present Day Club on January 27; and Miss Katharine McBride, president of the college, who will speak on March 15 to a combined P.T.A. meeting. There will also be a joint concert on February 23 in McCarter Theater with Princeton Glee Club, Bryn Mawr Chorus and Princeton Orchestra.

HOW IT IS IN ISRAEL

Hadassah Will Hear Panel. Four women who have spent some time in Israel will describe life in that country at the forthcoming meeting of Hadassah to be held Wednesday at 8:30 P.M. at the Princeton Jewish Center. Mrs. Albert Russinoff will act as panel moderator, and the general theme of the evening will be “Youth in Israel.”

Mrs. Joseph Blanc will tell of her life on a kibbutz, or communal farm; Mrs. Milton Horowitz will describe Israel from the tourist's point of view; Mrs. Bernard Okun, a native-born Israeli, will speak on her country and Mrs. A. G. Scherrer, who spent five months in Israel, will give her views on the land and its people.

Mrs. David Parnes, Youth Aliyah chairman, will report on the results of the Hadassah rummaging sale, proceeds of which go to the Youth Aliyah program for the rescue, resettlement and rehabilitation of children in Israel.

FORUM IN SOUTH BRUNSWICK

Sponsored by Women Voters. Candidates for South Brunswick Township Committee will discuss campaign issues in a public forum to be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Dayton School auditorium. The event is sponsored by the League of Women Voters of South Brunswick Township.

Abraham Dobin, Republican, and Hayden Raabe, Democrat, will speak on two questions presented to them by the League: “What do you think the patterns of growth will be in the Township in the next five years? What plans would you, as a future com-miteman, make to serve the anticipated needs of South Brunswick Township?”

After their talk, members of the audience will have an opportunity to ask questions from the floor. Mrs. Julian Aurelius of the Netuchen League of Women Voters will serve as moderator.

NEWCOMERS INVITED

To Coffee Meeting Tuesday. An informal coffee meeting will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the YWCA lounge by the Newcomers Club of the YWCA.

By 1975 the daily Princeton traffic will equal that of today's biggest football Saturdays. This is only one of the many problems that will face the Princeton Township Committee over the next 15 years as a result of Princeton's explosive growth.

To anticipate these problems and effectively resolve them requires men of foresight and experience.

Th Republican candidates for Township Committee have both.

All prospective members of the club and newcomers to Princeton are invited to attend the meeting. Nursery facilities will be available for pre-school children.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY SET

By Thistle Lodge No. 220. Thistle Lodge No. 220, Daughters of Scotia, will hold a Halloween Party Friday evening, October 30, at 8 in the Odd Fellows Hall, 23 Witherspoon Street. All members and their friends are invited to attend.

Sub-Chief Daughter Mrs. James McDowall is planning the arrangements. Past Chief Daughter Mrs. John Dempsey will provide music for dancing. The next meeting of the lodge will be this Friday, October 23.

TRUSTEES ELECTED

For Rocky Hill Nursery School. Officers and trustees for the Rocky Hill Cooperative Nursery School were elected at a meeting held this week.

Mrs. Richard Holsington will serve as president, Mrs. Clement Baldwin as vice-president and registrar, Mrs. Charles Peterson as secretary and Mrs. Gavin Hendrickson as treasurer. Trustees will be Mrs. Charles Allen, Clement Baldwin, John Nicholson and Dr. Richard Zeigler.

Registrations will continue to be held until the four remaining vacancies have been filled and those who are interested should apply to Mrs. Baldwin at WA 1-8129. Enrollment is limited to 14.

GEORGE DIXON APPOINTED

Will Be Lawrenceville Principal. George B. Dixon, member of the faculty of Valley Road school, has been appointed principal of the Lawrenceville Elementary School to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Frances Ottobre.

A graduate of Rutgers, Mr. Dixon holds a master's degree from New York University and has had additional work at Columbia and the State College at Paterson. Mr. Dixon's interests and experience combine a specialization in the teaching of reading with extensive work in administrative procedures. He is director of the Princeton Teen Age Canteen and last year served as president of the Princeton Township Education Association.

VANWEGEN APPOINTED

As Full Time President. Paul VanWegen, volunteer president of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association since 1953, has been appointed to serve the organization as a full time "working" president. The appointment becomes effective Friday.

David H. McAlpin, acting chairman of the Watersheds Association, pointed out in making the announcement that the duties of the president have become so important and so time-consuming that it is no longer possible for the organization to operate efficiently without a full-time president. William Flemer III, chairman of the Association's planning committee which had been analyzing the group's financing and personnel requirements, recommended the appointment of a full-time president to the Board of Trustees.

For the past three years, Mr. VanWegen had been secretary of

H. W. Holsington, Inc., Princeton investment firm, and secretary-treasurer of the Nassau Fund. Previously he had been mayor of Pennington, a teacher, and president of the Mercer County Fire and Insurance Company. He lives on the Pennington-Harbourton Road, Pennington.

NEW BOBCATS INDUCTED

Into Cub Scout Pack 77. At the year's first meeting at the Valley Road School, nine new members were inducted into Princeton Pack 77, Cub Scouts. The new cubs are: Theodore Tetzie, Thomas Schwanda, Gary Borkan, Simeon Moss, Richard Meservey, Eric Saunders, Kenneth Kloth, Eugene Chang and Samuel Wells.

Cubmaster Alexander Donald presented achievement and service awards to Eric Glover, Ronald Kingsley, Chris Holder, Thomas Lawson, Roger Holman, David

Westoff, Ronald Scullin, Donald Quick, William Alston, Elliott Frank, William Hartley and Richard Rogers. Dens 9 and 10 gave Halloween skits and Dens 4, 6 and 7 presented an exhibit of homemade Halloween masks. Den mothers for Pack 77 include Mrs. Edith Moss, Mrs. Sabre Merservey, Mrs. Helen Glover, Mrs. Carol Holder, Mrs. Dorothy Quick, Mrs. Mildred Alston and Mrs. Jenn Simmons.

The Pack committee members for this year include: Allen Hartley, chairman; Jerome Lawson, assistant chairman; Thomas Rogers, treasurer; Wesley Walton, institutional representative; Mrs. Evelyn Tetzie, recording secretary; Mrs. Cynthia Snyder, field secretary; Alexander Donald, cubmaster; James Blaisdell, assistant cubmaster; Mrs. Kipling Edenborough and Arlie Holder, Webelos den masters.

Larom B. Munson, former director of the Little Gallery, Palmer Square, is now in New Haven, where he is in partnership with his father, Emerson L. Munson. The two are in charge of three galleries, the Little Gallery here, the Munson Gallery in New Haven and a summer Little Gallery in Chatham, Mass.

Third generation of his family to become an art dealer, Mr. Munson is known here for the Princeton Merchants Art exhibition, which he inaugurated in 1956. Under this project important paintings by famous living American artists were displayed in the store windows of Princeton supermarkets, barber shops and other retail stores. Mr. Munson continues to have a hand in the operation of the Princeton gallery, as one of his main duties will be staging exhibitions for all three galleries.

Mr. Munson, his wife, Barbara, and their three children now live at 165 East Rock Road, New Haven. They have recently returned from a three-month visit to Spain, where he purchased art works for the galleries.

Miss Margaret Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Snow, 297 Edgerthorne Road, is a member of the freshman class at Connecticut College for Women, New London, Conn. A graduate of the Baldwin School, Miss Snow was one of 370 entering freshmen.

Edmund R. Groff, 125 Bayard Lane, and John T. Pearce, 8 Marvin Place, are candidates for the varsity soccer team at Yale University. Mr. Groff, a sophomore, prepared for Yale at Lawrenceville, where he was a member of the State championship soccer team in his sophomore year. Mr. Pearce, a junior and a soccer letter winner last year, was captain of the soccer, hockey and baseball teams and class treasurer at St. Paul's School.

Gordon Hubel social science editor for the Princeton University Press, has been appointed assistant to the director of the press. He will continue for the present as head of the social science department. Before coming to Princeton, Mr. Hubel, a graduate of Upsala College, was with the college department of Prentice Hall, publishers.

MUSIC In Princeton

PHILADELPHIANS PLAY
In Series I Opening Concert.
The opening of the University Concert Series confronts the critic once more with the impossible task of attempting to discuss one medium of communication in the idioms of another. In Monday night's concert, Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra spoke eloquently in the language of Brahms, Sessions and Ravel and to translate their interpretations into words is to rob the music of its spirit.

The most stimulating work of the evening was probably the orchestral suite from Roger Sessions' "The Black Maskers," a work full of vigorous excitement in which even the Dirge has movement and vitality. Mr. Sessions appeared at the close of the suite to join Mr. Ormandy in accepting the applause of the audience.

For the rest, the Philadelphians played a program of familiar music, probably the sort of program they have great success with on nation-wide tours and if Princeton audiences feel that Mr. Ormandy should treat them to a more unusual program, at least they can thank him for including the Sessions.

The Brahms Symphony No. 4 in E Minor reminded listeners once again what a shining and disciplined string section Philadelphia has. In the opening bars of the Allegro, the violins produced a tone which was furnished to an unbelievable degree and throughout the symphony, the warm autumnal tones of the cellos provided the depth and color that are needed in this Brahms.

The second Daphnis and Chloe suite of Ravel, which has been recorded by the Philadelphia Orchestra, was full of the serene and shimmering colors and sounds which are so essential to an interpretation of this Impressionist music.

The program opened with Weber's overture to "Der Freischütz" and closed with an encore, the Intermezzo from Bach's C major Toccata. It was a rich and deeply rewarding evening, if a somewhat predictable one, and the pleasure of watching a superb orchestra perform were part of the rewards.

It is somewhat extraordinary that such a virtuoso ensemble should be so anonymous. Time and again during the evening, individuals shone out of the mass with really awesome effect.

Mr. Ormandy presented to the audience the flautist who so enriched the Ravel. Either he or a colleague contributed in an equal measure to the allegro energies of the Brahms and to the "Scene" of "The Black Maskers" in which the flute is heard with the solo viola.

And who was the solo viola? Who were the trumpeters who were set against the muted violins in the "Dirge" of the Sessions and who were the harpists who rippled through Daphnis and Chloe?

The Philadelphia is an orchestra of virtuosos and its great triumph and that of Mr. Ormandy is that these musicians are so splendidly disciplined into a harmonious whole.

TRIO HERE THIS WEEKEND
In Dillon Gym. Members of the Kingston Trio will come this Friday at 8 p.m. in Dillon Gymnasium on the Princeton campus to entertain what could be one of the largest indoor audiences in Princeton in some time: the capacity of the gym is 3,200.

C&K Productions, sponsors of the Trio, has announced that the singing group will present an extemporaneous program whose content will be guided by audience interest. Critics of the Newport Jazz Festival called the Kingston Trio "brilliant entertainment!" and the singers have been booked solidly for various appearances through next summer.

FIND CONCERT A SUCCESS

"Something for Everyone." It is rare that one has the opportunity to hear, in the short space of two-and-one-half hours, and "under one roof," ten musically intense and well-disciplined vocal organizations, many of which have achieved national and international recognition for their superb artistry. Members of Princeton's music-loving community were fortunate enough to enjoy such a treat at the Princeton United Community Fund's first annual United Festival of Song, held in McCarter Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

In order to help the United Fund toward its current goal of $212,000, each of these ten local groups gave freely and graciously of its time and talent in the preparation of this concert. CBS Radio, attracted by the unusual quality of the program, recorded it for coast-to-coast broadcast on Sunday evening, sponsored by the National United Community Funds and Councils of America.

Variety was one of the keynotes of the evening, with music to please every taste, be it high or lowbrow. The program presented large choir and small, informal groups alternately, which kept audience attention and interest at a high level. Chester R. Stroup was a cordial master of ceremonies, and the mechanics of getting each large group on and off the stage were handled deftly and smoothly.

The undergraduate body of Princeton University was widely represented through the Princeton University Glee Club, and two small vocal organizations, the Tiger-tones and the Nassoons. Under the energetic direction of Walter Nollner, the Glee Club performed its opening songs with a fine blend; the closing football medley was presented with characteristic zest.

The Nassoons and the Tiger-tones, appearing simultaneously on the same stage (an unusual occurrence) sang alternately various popular and traditional songs, arranged by members of each group. Although both organizations were well-received, the Nassoons seemed to have a greater variety in their choice of songs, and more mellow tone quality than did the Tigertones.

Music In Princeton

Sacred choral music was performed by the Princeton Theological Seminary Choir, under the direction of Dr. David H. Jones, and by the Princeton Male Chorus, accompanied by their director, Mrs. Bessie Christian. The Seminary choir's selections covered many periods of church music, and the group performed with a consistently warm tone quality, though its intonations was frequently faulty, particularly in the upper register. The Princeton Male Chorus, performing for the first time in McCarter Theatre, sang with sincerity and the solemnity inherent in each of the three spirituals.

The Palmer Squares, and their gaily garbed female counterparts, the Opposite Sextette, added a bit of clowning to their separate acts, much to the delight of the audience. Both groups specialized in barbershop harmony and clever arrangements of favorite popular tunes.

Three Choirs Excellent. The highest points of the evening, in terms of choral technique and professional discipline, were the performances by the Columbus Boychoir, the Princeton High School Choir and the Westminster Choir. The Columbus Boychoir, directed by Donald Bryant, is an international favorite, not only for the reason that its diminutive members are utterly captivating, but also because their performances are, without fail, musically impeccable.

Madrigals are considered, even by adult musicians, extremely difficult to sing well; these crystal gems by the old masters of vocal composition demand of their performers the highest degree of tonal and rhythmic sensitivity, plus a purity of vocal timbre, in order that the intricacies of the music's texture be brought out clearly. The singing of the little boys is blessed with each of these qualities, and their performance of the four madrigals was breathtakingly polished. Their total presentation, six songs in all, was a delight from beginning to end.

Choral selections from J. S. Bach's "Magnificat" were performed extremely well by the Princeton High School Choir, an organization which emphasizes the performance of serious music more than do most similar groups of high-school age. The "Magnificat" is difficult and demanding, especially for young voices, and this choir and its director, Thomas Hilbish, deserves commendation for a fine understanding of the work's contrapuntal complexities and for faultless intonation throughout.

ORGAN DEDICATION: The First Presbyterian Church's new organ will be dedicated in a concert at 4 on Sunday afternoon, November 1, by Carl Weinrich, organist and choir-master for the Princeton University Chapel.

The Westminster Choir, conducted by Harold Hedgpeth, sang with its consistently fine brand of performance standards, beautiful in every respect, and of the highest artistic calibre. Each of the choir's selections was presented with a warm, rich tone quality and an especially notable attention to dynamic detail. The group ended the program with Peter Lutkin's "Benediction."

This concert, a musical manifestation of a solid, positive community effort, was a most gratifying and enjoyable experience, and the spirit with which it was given—that of completely unselfish cooperation—is something in which Princeton has every right to take great pride.

CHINESE CONCERT SET

For Monday Evening, Lui Tsun-yuen, Chinese artist, will present a concert of Chinese music Monday evening at 8:30 in 10 McCosh Hall. The concert is sponsored by the Departments of Music and Oriental Studies at Princeton University and by the Roy Dickinson Welch Memorial Fund. It will be open to the public free of charge.

Mr. Lui, who was born in Soochow, China, is one of the few expert players of the pipa and chlin, which are both ancient Chinese musical instruments. The pipa, which is also known as the Chinese lute or "ballon guitar," has four strings with a range of four and a half octaves. The chin, which has seven silk strings, stretched over an oblong convex sounding board, is played horizontally, like a zither.

Some of Mr. Lui's own original compositions for the pipa will be included in Monday's program, as well as a wide selection of classical masterpieces. Selections on the pipa will include "Song of the Frontier," believed to date back to the 1st century B.C.; "Moonlight over the Spring River," from the 7th century A.D., and Mr. Lui's composition, "Dragon Boat Race." Selections to be played on the chin will include "In a Buddhist Temple" and "Parting at Yang Kuan," which dates back to the 8th century A.D.

Mr. Lui, who has performed in Hongkong and Brazil, just arrived in this country recently. He played to a capacity audience September 21 at the Carnegie Recital Hall in New York and received an enthusiastic reception from the critics. His performance has also been recorded by the B.B.C. for its permanent record collection.

FIRST RECITAL PLANNED

For New Church Organ. A dedicatory recital on the new organ at First Presbyterian Church will be held Sunday afternoon, November 1, at 4 o'clock. Organist will be Dr. Carl Weinrich, who acted as consultant for the church in the negotiations for the organ. This will be Dr. Weinrich's first recital of the season.

Built by Walter Holtkamp of Cleveland, the organ has the majority of its pipes exposed. This design makes it possible to achieve maximum effectiveness and beauty of tone. In addition, the mildness of the pipe voicing makes the organ particularly suited for choral accompaniment and service requirements, as well as for solo playing.

MUSIC CLUB TO MEET

Marketed Here by Art Service, Princeton Art Services, Inc., which began in 1956 as a one-man part-time venture in commercial art, has expanded until it is now a corporation with an extensive list of clients whom it serves in the related fields of art, advertising copy and the preparation of sales presentations.

The Service, which operates from quarters at 175 Nassau, is now planning to go more deeply than before into the field of advertising, including the preparation of copy.

"People who know our art work are interested in having us take over ad copy, too," explains William Airey, founder of the firm and senior partner, Princeton Art Services numbers among its advertising clients The Lamplighter Restaurant, Lahiere's French Restaurant and the new Princeton Recreation Center.

Mr. Airey's partner is John Fleck who joined the art service in March of this year. Both Mr. Airey and Mr. Fleck are trained artists who divide equally the work of copy writing, drawing and planning promotion.

"It's strictly cooperative," says Mr. Fleck, defining the division of work in the shop.

Other Services Offered. In addition to advertisements, Princeton Art Services prepares brochures or sales and research presentations for business firms. These layouts include graphic cartoons, lettering and so on, and they are executed from ideas which originate with the two partners after conferences with the client organization.

The fields of package design and interior design are also part of the Princeton Art Services offering and "North Light Interiors"

WE WORK HERE: Partners John Fleck, left, and William Airey are the main-springs of Princeton Art Services, Inc., a three-year-old Princeton organization which has recently begun to expand its activities into the fields of ad copywriting, industrial design and the preparation of brochures. Mrs. Fleck and Mrs. Airey are also part of the organization in the bookkeeping and secretarial departments.

is one branch of the organization. "North Light" designs industrial and office interiors. Pharmacist and Sue-SEE Surprises are two of the packaging clients.

Across the street in the basement of 182 Nassau, Princeton Art Services has a press for show cards, posters and the types of layout work required by large-scale presentations for research organizations. Silk-screen work is also done here and there is a small carpenter shop as well.

The basement across the street is also the production shop for Color Stuck pressure-sensitive colored paper, a fine-grade paper which is used by commercial artists, advertising agencies and schools. It is paper which has been specially treated on the back to stick to any surface it is peeled off and re-applied if necessary.

SOCONY OPENS
Nuclear Research Center Ready.

A new laboratory for nuclear research by Socony Mobil Oil Company was officially opened Monday, Inc. The new center is located on the 315-acre Stony Brook Farm in Hopewell Township about five miles west of Princeton.

In the laboratory, a staff of 15 scientists will conduct research in nuclear physics and chemistry to discover ways in which petroleum can be converted into high-quality products through nuclear processes.

The center, which will operate as a subdivision of Socony Mobil's central research division, contains a two million electron volt Van de Graaff accelerator which provides high-energy electrons, protons, X-rays and neutrons for basic research.

There is also a laboratory equipped for the manipulation of fission - waste radio - isotopes as well as secondary radio - active sources such as Cobalt-60, and "counting" laboratories for assaying radioactive materials.

BRANCH OFFICE OPENED

By Auto Upholstery Firm. A new branch of Kisthardt Auto Products, Inc., Trenton auto upholstery firm, has been opened at 190-198 Witherspoon Street. The company, which has its main office at 1104 Princeton Avenue, Trenton, specializes in convertible tops, automobile seat covers and replacement of original upholstery.

Other services offered by the firm, which was founded in 1929, are canvas repair and glass replacement. There is also a special department for special type canvas covers.

The company also operates another firm, the Kisthardt Body Works, which was added in 1952. All types of auto and truck body and painting are performed by this firm, which is located in a large plant at 1600 Chambers Street, Trenton.

In Princeton

LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD: Roger Holt, who grew up in Princeton, skirts right end for a touchdown against Colgate—his way paved by a crunching block that Don Kerrumpf threw on the Raiders' fullback. Holt, a sophomore, is the first alumnus of Princeton Country Day School to play varsity football for Princeton University.

TURNING POINT AT HAND

For Tigers in Cornell Game. If Princeton's 1959 football team is to finish well above the .500 mark and high in the Ivy race, the answer will probably become apparent Saturday afternoon in Palmer Stadium. The fifth game of the schedule has normally been a good measuring stick for the Orange and Black, and this season there are numerous questions which can only be answered in the affirmative by a victory over the Ithacans.

Although comparative scores are inclined to be misleading most of the time, the outcome of the Princeton-Cornell game should shed some light on an increasingly-intriguing situation: just how good is Yale? The Elis, now 4-0 and the only major team in the U.S. as yet unscored on, have virtually the identical personnel that finished last year in the Ivy League basement.

If Cornell can come back from a 23-0 beating at the hands of the Blue to trim Princeton, there will be sufficient proof that the Elis have completed one of the more unusual rebounds in Ivy annals. With Dartmouth fading, the title would then virtually be determined by the Yale-Penn clash at Franklin Field on November 7.

Princeton, however, has a different outlook on the race after having walloped Colgate, 42 to 7, despite a series of injuries that might well have upset a less determined team. The Tigers will regain some of their casualties for the Cornell affair, but have lost three others for an indefinite period and are apparently not to be at full strength for some time.

Full Strength at Tailback. Dan Sachs will be ready Saturday, so that for the first time this year, the capable trio that he forms at tailback with Hugh Scott and Jack Sullivan will all be ready for action. Off the fine work that Mike Ippolito has been doing in a triple-threat capacity at fullback, this is a degree of potential on offense that makes the Tigers a logical pick over Cornell.

Captain Frank Svecetec, a veteran end Ed Kostelnik, both of whom sat out the Colgate game virtually in full, will be also ready Saturday, as will wingback Ron Goldman. Among the missing, however, will be Mike Iselman, wingback who is sidelined with a shoulder injury. John Craig, promising sophomore tackle-out, with a bruised hip; and end Bruce Sprague, benched by recurrence of a pinched nerve in his shoulder.

Cornell's problem is much like Princeton's: both teams have good potential, neither has played consistent football. The Ithacans had to come from behind both Colgate and Harvard with touchdowns literally scored in the closing seconds, and last week were blanked by Yale after having been installed as slight favorites.

WE Congratulate

JIM BLAIR
 Princeton End

Four minutes after the Colgate-Princeton game started Saturday, Jim Blair deftly caught an end-zone pass from Hugh Scott for the Tigers' first touchdown. Inside of another four minutes, he capped a fine goal-line stand for the Orange and Black by nailing the visitors' quarterback on fourth down, ten yards behind the line of scrimmage.

That was typical of Blair's contributions much of the afternoon, in a game that saw the visitors' speed, pitch-outs and option plays place vital importance on defensive work by the ends. In all, he caught four passes, adding two more points to his day's total when he completed a conversion from wingback John MacMurray.

Blair's presence on the varsity was felt at the outset of his sophomore year. Jim Stansbury's career-ending injury had left a big gap on the left side of the line, and the rangy (6-1, 180-lb.) Californian came along fast enough to earn the starting assignment. He was the only member of his class to answer the opening whistle in his first game.

Since then, Blair has been a regular consistently, and last season led the team in total yardage on pass receptions with a figure of 186. His long-gainer was a 62-yard completion in the 50-to-14 rout of Yale at New Haven.

Blair's versatility extends to baseball, in which he had a fine record as a pitcher playing under American Legion auspices in California. He devoted his time to academic pursuits last spring, but if he decides to go out for baseball next year, Eddie Donovan's nine will be the stronger.

Against Cornell on Saturday, Blair's ability will again be tested by the Ithacans' speed and pitch-outs geared to fast excursions around the flanks. On offense, he'll be a prime target for the tailbacks on the running pass and for Mike Ippolito short or deep across the middle. Jim Blair's all-around play is one reason for Princeton's confidence in his ability to move steadily up the Ivy League ladder in the weeks ahead.

Sports In Princeton

In front of an unusually fast backfield like Princeton, its ball carriers can pass from three different positions — quarterback, halfback and fullback, although Cornell's Phil Taylor does not compare with Ippolito (7 for 10 and two touchdowns) as an aerial artist.

The Ithacans operate out of a Slot*, spreading the ends wide and placing the right halfbacks between the end and tackle. Efficiency has been somewhat below expectations because Dick Nicinetti, assigned to the spot before the season began, has not yet played because of an injury. Timm said he might be ready this weekend.

Marcy Tino and Dave McKelvey operate as quarterbacks, with Dan Bidwell and George Telesh the chief halfback threats. Taylor is a powerful runner at fullback, with the entire quartet built around speed, quick pitchouts and option plays. The Red has a good line, one that is about even with Princeton's 128-lb. average, but does not match the Tigers in reserve strength.

Colgate Was Weak. The woes that beset yesterday's coach working with inexperienced material were fully apparent Saturday afternoon as a frequently inept Colgate team partook in a steady give-away show. The visitors fumbled eight times, with Princeton recovering on four occasions, and had three passes intercepted. Since they completed only three themselves, these statistics alone tell much of the story.

Three of the losers' fumbles and two of the interceptions led directly to Princeton scoring, in addition to seizing these opportunities, the Tigers were able to launch sustained drives in impressive fashion for the first time this season.

The game was barely five minutes old when the Orange and Black racked up its first touchdown. Scott passing to Jim Blair (see "We Congratulate") from ten yards out after the first Colgate fumble had been recovered on the 22. The visitors later took a 7-0 lead, capitalizing on the interception of a pass thrown deep in Princeton territory.

It was a quarterbacking error of the type that has bothered the Tigers all fall, but it was encouraging that the mistakes in this department were cut sharply from the Penn game. Colgate's slim lead lasted for the first 10 minutes of the second period, the home team rallying at that point with welcome authority.

A 65-yard drive that was paced by one play credited to fullback Don Karasump sent Princeton ahead as he wedged over from a yard out. Before the half ended, the Tigers scored another TD and booted a field goal (an effort by Drewler. Loud that traveled 33 yards) to account for ten points in 37 seconds.

Three more touchdowns, one each by the first, second and third teams, followed in the second half. There was good balance to the attack, the Tigers running for 199 yards, passing for 150 and using six players who completed averts from three different backfield positions.

Unanswered Questions. Always aware that comparative scores are dangerous, Princetonians nonetheless were encouraged by the one-sided aspect of the victory over a team which had been regarded as potentially dangerous. Colgate had led Cornell until the final minute, and had come within 12 yards and two minutes of beating Rutgers.

Having run up six touchdowns and a field goal against the Raiders, despite the absence of some of their top players, the Tigers appear to have made a major step in the right direction after losing so completely to Pennsylvania. Saturday's set-to with Cornell will show just how far back they have come.

In doubt, too, is the degree to which the Tigers will be hurt by the continued skein of injuries. When wholesale backfield juggling was essential against Penn, the attack became disorganized, and the total offense sank to its lowest point in years.

The constant rash of injuries that has beset the Princeton squad in the past two seasons is greater than anyone associated with football here can remember. It may well be that the Tigers will go through 18 straight games without ability to field their top 11 men simultaneously — to say nothing of badly-needed depth among the reserves.

Saturday's affair may be a high-scoring contest, with the winning team finding it essential to produce three touchdowns. Again, belief in a Princeton victory is predicated on the probability that the Tigers have a defensive edge over Cornell.

While the desire to finish as high in this year's Ivy race is all the incentive the Orange and Black should need, memories of last year's game will add a revenge motif if necessary. Every starter for the Tigers on Saturday saw the 34-8 rout at Ithaca last fall, and will be extremely eager to atone for what happened that long afternoon.

COUNTY CROWN AT STAKE

In PHS Game Friday. A Trenton High School touchdown on the last play of the game enabled THS to tie Princeton High School, 12-12, last Friday on the Tornadoes field. As a result, little progress was made in determining which eleven will win the mythical Mercer County Title this year. This Friday afternoon, the Little Tigers will try to be more decisive in their attempt to win County honors when they play host to the Golden Wave of Trenton Catholic in another intra-county contest scheduled to start at 3.

While the tie with THS is not a fatal mark on their county record, a win Friday is vital for the Little Tigers if they are to remain contenders. Last year, TC caught a Little Tiger eleven unable to rebound from an 18-13 upset that Trenton High had administered to them the week before, and beat them 25-7.

This fall, the Wave, as yet unable to win a game and losing last week to a powerful Vineland squad, 41-14, stands 0-3 for the season and, PHS hopes to make it 0-4. Statistics notwithstanding, and doubtlessly remembering what happened last week, PHS coach Joseph Jingoli said the TC game "can go either way".

In last Friday's game Princeton High clearly dominated play in the first half, scoring both TDs while a much improved Blue and White defense was holding the Tornado running attack to a minus 47 yards. In the second half, it was all Trenton as the Red and Black, unable to sweep the PHS ends in the first two periods, found the middle of the Little Tiger line less formidable and ground out 127 yards while holding Princeton to 32.

For Jack Hawkins, who scored both touchdowns, who passed and punted well; who prevented a THS score by batting down a sure-fire TD aerial, it was—to paraphrase Shakespeare—an afternoon wherein those good football deeds will be interred with his bones while one bad one will live on.

Hawkins Scores First PHS TD. Early in the second quarter, after a scoreless first period, Anthony Rossi, back to punt for Trenton on fourth down, fumbled the pass from center—the third time that THS had fumbled the snapback and lost yardage—and PHS took over on the Red and Black 18. Five plays later, Hawkins hit the left side of the line to score from four yards out, the short drive being highlighted by an 8-yard end run by Russ Perone. Howard

Gould's try for the PAT was wide.

Later in the second period, Hawkins waited behind good pass protection before firing a long pass to Perone, who caught the ball on the THS 16 and, about to be tackled, cut sharply to his left and out-raced a host of would-be tacklers before finally being pulled down on the one-yard stripe. The play covered 56 yards and came with 53 seconds remaining in the half. Hawkins then scored the TD on a slant off right tackle but was stopped as he tried to add the PAT on a run.

THS Dominates 2nd Half Play. THS, able to make only one first down in the entire first half, racked up three in a row at the start of the second as it drove from its own 30 to the PHS 5 before Ron Knight, who did most of the running up the middle, missed another first down by inches. With six seconds remaining in the third period, Hawkins returned a Rossi punt to his own 20 where he was hit, fumbled and lost the ball. Two plays later, Edward Binn, 135-pound quarterback speedster, hit the Little Tiger line, cut to his right and scored on an 18-yard run. Knight was stopped in his try to add the PAT on a run.

The Little Tigers appeared to have the game won when, with only two minutes remaining, Dave Kilgour, Dave Wright and Dave Smith threw Knight for a two-yard loss back to the PHS three on fourth down. Seven plays later, with only ten seconds remaining, Hawkins, in trying to run out the clock, was hit hard, fumbled and the alert Bin scooped it up and ran the remaining 20 yards for the tying TD. Knight, however, failed to penetrate the stunned Little Tiger line for the winning conversion.

Applegate Misses Game. PHS was hurt by the loss of 6'4", 200-pound Ridge Applegate who was out with a sprained knee. Line coach Jerry Groninger said that "we especially missed Applegate over the middle on defense." Singled out by Jingoli for their defensive play were Dave Smith, who on at least three occasions broke through and spilled Trenton backs for big losses; and Ken Reed, who filled in for the injured Applegate; and Dave Kilgour, team captain of whom Jingoli said, "He played his best defensive game of the year." Offensively, Perone, Hawkins and Ted Meredith stood out while Jack Copeland, "did very well on offensive blocking."

Jingoli and his coaches all thought that the Little Tiger blocking and tackling was much over the middle on defense, against Leonardo, and that the team gave its best hut that a victory over Trenton High, as Jingoli put it, "just wasn't meant to be". Jingoli defended Hawkins on the last play, saying that Hawkins hadn't called it and that they hadn't punted because they wanted to keep T.H.S. from getting the ball. "If we had kicked, they would have thrown 10 men on the line and might have blocked the punt and the game might have ended just as it did," Jingoli felt.

HUN TO FACE TOWER HILL

After Topping Friends, 32-8. A fast-improving football team squad will journey to Wilmington, Del., to face an unbeaten Tower Hill eleven Friday afternoon. The Oklahoma of its league, Tower Hill shut out the Red and Black last year, 16-0, spilling a promising season for Hun in which it had won its first three games and had been unscored on.

Last Friday, Paul Kadlic started Hun off on the right foot by returning a Germantown punt 37 yards for a touchdown early in the first period. Tom Johnson added two more points on his successful PAT run. A few minutes later Kadlic converted his interception of a Friends pass on their own 46 into Hun's second TD, while Gary Grover's conversion run made it 16-0.

In the second quarter, Grover added six more points to Hun's total on a six-yard run which culminated a 60-yard drive. Kadlic, who has scored the bulk of the Red and Black's TDs, ran the PAT to swell the score to 21-0. Germantown, for its only score of the day, matched Hun's second period tally with a 60-yard pass play.

John Keffer, Hun quarterback whom coach Harley Waterman praised for calling a "brilliant game," scored the victors' fourth and final TD in the third period with a one-yard line huck that climaxed another 60-yard drive. Once more Kadlic made the successful PAT run to close out the scoring. Neither team scored in the final quarter.

Commenting on some of the standout players in the game, Waterman said that Grover, who is only a sophomore, looked very sharp in running the ball. "Tommy Johnson," he added, "got off some mighty nice kick-offs for us and Kadlic, of course, is right in there all the time." On the line, Pete Savidge played his usual good game at center and Jim Maynell did a fine job at end. John Ward, injured Hun full-back, filled in at defensive guard.

BOWLING NOTES

Shelton Leads "A" Loop. Shelton Motors (23) posted six victories at Princeton Recreation Center this week to surge ahead of last week's leader, Decker Daily (21) in the "A" League. Huli's Shoes is tied with Decker for second place.

In the "B" League, Cifelli Electric (30) added four wins to stay in first place. Runners-up are Walker Gordon (21) and Jefferson Plumbing (22). Tiger Garage (22) maintained its edge in the Industrial loop, trailed by Nassau Service and Dayton Five (20 each) and Nassau Del and Para Lab Supply (18 each).

Forsgate Country Club (38) is still the leader in the Women's Industrial League, but second-place Nassau Service and Cifelli Electric (36 apiece) posted six triumphs during the week to cut Forsgate's margin from four to two games. Cranbury Bank (32) is comfortably ahead of Tiger Bus and Emans & McVaugh (26 each) in the Princeton Women's League.

Notable individual scores: Bill Bathie, 219, and Percy Klatskin, 213, in the "A" League; Rudolph Ehart, 216-186-171 (603); Joe Baldino, 220-181-233 (611); George Siekel and Fred Lehnert, 227 each; John Baldino, 220, and Nick Cifelli, 212, in the "B" League.

ART In Princeton

ART AT MISS FINE'S

Festival Most Rewarding. The range, variety and quality of the exhibits at the Festival of the Arts attracted to Miss Fine's School gymnasium a constant flow of art lovers, pleasure seekers and others who were just plain curious. The show was a reward for them all.

A catalogue of 192 works listed paintings and sculpture by a wide representation of artists from the area around Princeton. Styles ranged from the abstract to the photographic. John Foster showed "Facade," a store-front composed of rectangles and rectilinear shadows relieved by the reflection of a large tree and a Hallowe'en spook.

George Greene, in "Winter Journey," combined cold blue, grey and white in a melange of color—or lack of it—which somehow failed to convey the abstract of winter in the blazingly effective way that Sant'Agostino's mosaics conveyed the abstract of Venice. The Venetian mosaic, tremendous in size and in impact, hung at the far end of the gym where it could be inspected at close range or studied from a distance. The mosaic was intended to be—and quite probably was—the most impressive single work at the Festival.

Next to this formidable work, in which the colors and shapes of stones have been arranged to produce an abstract pattern, the Festival decorators set a needlework exhibit consisting of pieces in which the colors and textures of yarns are arranged to produce geometric patterns, charming little bouquets or abstract designs. The needlework and a mosaic made, each in its own way, a rich contribution to the whole.

For many visitors, the sculpture exhibits were the most appealing, from the striking frieze on the stage arranged with both fore and back light, to the frisky wooden caterpillar in the make-believe garden.

NOT BAD, NOT BAD AT ALL: Although Saturday afternoon was set aside specially for children at the Festival of the Arts, each day of the four-day exhibition had its quota of young connoisseurs who came to look, to touch and to wonder. On Saturday, they had an opportunity to experiment for themselves in clay and other media.

I DON'T KNOW MUCH ABOUT ART, BUT I KNOW WHAT I LIKE: The Festival of the Arts at Miss Fine's attracted art lovers of all ages, sizes and ranges of experience. Lettie Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Greer, Jr., of Lawrenceville, exhibits a tentative finger toward Joseph Domarek's bronze dancers. (Photo by K. Brettnali)

Joseph Brown's Basketball Player in bronze was there for the realists. Domarek's birds and dancers for those who like elongated forms and the wood pieces of Homer Gunn for those who like to see the way grain and burl can contribute to form.

The setting itself was one of the most striking aspects of the Festival. The use of pine boughs and evergreens to disguise the gymnasium, the dropped ceilings, the translucent glolular lights and the aural pleasure of Thomas Freilighs's molded fiberglass fountain combined to provide a gallery that was worthy of the works it displayed.

LEAGUE GROUP TO MEET

Will Study Planning. The opening meeting of the League of Women Voters' community planning study group will be held at 8:15 next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Edwin K. Catcheside, 41 Broadripple Drive. Open to all League members, the group will be addressed by Dr. Gerald Breese, director of the Bureau of Urban Research at Princeton University. Dr. Breese has just been appointed a member of the Princeton Township Planning Board.

In determining what areas of community planning to study, the League has consulted with Ralph Mason, former chairman of the Township Planning Board; George Meyers, Borough Planning Board chairman, and Mayor Male.

RUMMAGE SALE PLANNED

By Lawrence Church. The women's association of the Lawrence Road Presbyterian Church will hold a rummage sale in the lower auditorium of the church this Friday from 9 to noon, and again from 6 to 8. Mrs. Edward Firman is chairman of the sale, with Mrs. Albert Clark serving as her assistant.

Clothing for men, women and children, suitable for all seasons, will be on sale. Those wishing to contribute should bring items to the church this Thursday. They may call Mrs. Firman at EX 3-7223 for further information.

The committee, who will complete arrangements Thursday evening, includes Mrs. Donald McGowan, Mrs. John Zita, Mrs. William Turner, Mrs. Charles Lowrie, Mrs. Alfred Steller, Mrs. Frank Ricatto, Mrs. Clifford Prall, Mrs. Arthur T. Kneer, Jr., Mrs. C. Arthur Cochran, Miss Martha Klesch, Mrs. Frank Ayres, Mrs. Leon Mount and Mrs. Catherine Perduan.

R. W. JOHNSON HONORED

As Industrialist of Year. Robert W. Johnson, chairman of the board of Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick, has been chosen "Industrialist of the Year" by the Society of Industrial Realtors. A resident of Princeton, he will be awarded a trophy in recognition of the honor at a meeting of the society to be held Monday, November 3, in Toronto, Canada.

The award is made for "a most significant contribution to the industrial development of North America in the public interest." Mr. Johnson was selected by an Award Board of 14 industrial leaders, headed by N. R. Crump, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. Mr. Crump said that Mr. Johnson, whom he described as "a practical idealist," was unanimously selected by the board.

FRENCH, BRIDGE, CAKES

Classes Offered at "Y". Duplicate French, French and Cake Decorating are among the classes offered this fall by the YWCA. Classes in Russian and in ballroom dancing are also on the "Y" curriculum.

Duplicate bridge play begins at 8:15 p.m. Tuesdays and all bridge players are welcome to attend the sessions. About 40 players attend. Three French classes on Thursday mornings offer instruction for beginners (9:10 a.m.), intermediate students (10:11 a.m.) and advanced students (11:00n). Classes in Russian are given on Wednesdays from 8:30 p.m. for beginners and 9:10 p.m. for advanced students. Ballroom dancing meets on Tuesdays from 8:10 p.m. under the guidance of Thomas Teng. Cake decorating classes are held on Fridays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

DELTA GAMMAS TO MEET

Aid to Blind Planned. The Princeton - Trenton - Delaware Valley Association of the Delta Gamma Fraternity will meet Tuesday at 8:30 at the home of Mrs. Alexander Robinson, 11 Bryl Court, Franklin Park. Dessert and coffee will be served after the business meeting. All members of the group are invited, and should get in touch with Mrs. Robinson for further information.

The Association plans to staff the Princeton Unit of Records for the Blind one night a month, with each member volunteering one night a year. The schedule will be worked out at the meeting.

Decorations for the Thanksgiving Christmas sale will also be distributed on Tuesday. Proceeds from their sale will be donated to the blind.

News Of The CHURCHES

KNOW YOUR PASTOR

Meet Mr. Dannenhauer. "I feel that the ministry is the way to have and the way to the most satisfactory solution of human need." It was this feeling that drove Kenneth S. Dannenhauer to the ministry of the Baptist Church, a calling he has followed for almost two decades.

The pastor of Princeton's Calvary Baptist church has been in Princeton since November 16, 1968, when he answered the call to become second pastor of Calvary. Six weeks after his arrival, the congregation moved into the new church building on the corner of Chestnut and Houghton and since that time, the Rev. Mr. Dannenhauer has been occupied with the completion of the physical part of his church and with launching new projects for the enrichment of the spiritual life of his congregation.

"We've started an elective series of courses for adults," Mr. Dannenhauer explains. "With three simultaneous classes every Sunday morning. We'll offer the courses for three months, then change around. Right now, we have classes in 'Acts of the Apostles,' 'The Message of the Old Testament Prophets,' and 'Basic Theological Themes.'"

The new pastor has also supervised the realization of the church school and more attention is now given to grouping children by age-group. Curriculum has been revised at all age levels and designed so that children are exposed to material which is in line with their reading capacities.

Ministry or Mission? Mr. Dannenhauer's father was a Baptist minister, and like so many sons, this one said "no" at first. But by the time senior year at Bucknell had come around, Mr. Dannenhauer felt that he wanted some form of the ministry as a life work. He was keenly interested in student work—still in—and in missionary activity, but in the end he decided that a pastorate would be the place where he could serve best.

Bucknell was followed by Colgate Rochester Divinity School.

RARE FELLOWSHIP: "It isn't often you find the three of us in the same house," says the Rev. Kenneth Dannenhauer of his busy family. Mrs. Dannenhauer, the former Waka Mochizuki, is on the editorial committee of the Baptist newspaper, "The Crusader," serves as chairman of the Student Work Committee of the New Jersey Baptist Convention and is Baptist representative to the New Jersey Council of Churches' department of College and University Ministers. The Dannenhauers met when they were both chosen to serve on the executive committee of the National Baptist Youth Fellowship. Mark Allen, 12, is a student at Littlebrook School. (Staff Photo)

Then the New Jersey-born minister accepted a call to Rhode Island and served there for 11 years, seven years in Cranston and seven in Warwick.

"The variety of experience and the balance of component parts—ministry, student work, counseling—at Calvary Baptist, make it a particularly rewarding church," Mr. Dannenhauer feels. "It's 'home - mission' work, you know; guiding a new young church in a fast-growing community. And I particularly like the opportunity to work with students."

The Rev. Mr. Dannenhauer is Baptist Chaplain to students at Princeton. He also has many Choir College students in his congregation of 118 members.

Backs Bond Issue. This fall, Mr. Dannenhauer's chief concern aside from his church, is the College Bond Issue, which he regards as the most important of all reforms before New Jersey voters this November.

"It is absolutely essential to begin solving the crisis of higher education in New Jersey," Mr. Dannenhauer believes. "And I speak as a native of the state."

The Calvary minister is a big, active man with a broad sense of personality and an expansive, friendly manner with members and attenders of his church. His cheerful outlook is evident in his enjoyment of the theater—musicals, comedies, comedy - drama. "I haven't much time for relaxation," he says, "but when I can relax, the theater's the place I like to do it."

REV. H. W. HEAPS RESIGNS
From Kingston Presbyterian. The Rev. Henry W. Heaps has announced his resignation as pastor of Kingston Presbyterian Church. He has accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church in Danellon, and will begin his work there on January 1, 1969.

Mr. Heaps has been pastor of the Kingston church since 1951. The active membership of the church has more than doubled during his pastorate, as has the Sunday School membership. In 1958 Kingston Presbyterian led the 11 churches of the New Brunswick Presbytery in per capita giving and in the number of new members received, based on its total membership.

NAMED VICAR
Of All Saints' Chapel. The Rev. Charles G. Newbery, assistant at Trinity Episcopal Church since 1966, has been chosen vicar of the church's new All Saints' Chapel. He was elected to the new post at a recent meeting of the rector, wardens and vestry and will take over his new duties immediately.

All Saints' Chapel, an expansion of Trinity Parish, is now being built on Van Dyke Road, off Snowden Lane. It will consist of a Lady Chapel and parish house, with a connecting wing.

Lutheran Church of the Messiah. Charles Brown, also a former music director of the Messiah Church, will be organist.

ASSISTANT NAMED

At Sand Hills Church. Theodore Nelson Brosioie, a second year student at Princeton Theological Seminary, has been named student assistant minister of the newly-organized Community Presbyterian Church of the Sand Hills, Kendall Park. He will preach his first sermon for the congregation this Sunday at 11 a.m.

Mr. Brosioie, who was born in Ogdensburg, N. Y., took teacher's training and worked at General Electric in Schenectady, N. Y., before deciding to enter the ministry. He is married and has three children. The Brosioies live off the Bunker Hill Road to Griggstown, near Kendall Park.

Daniel Evans was elected president of the board of trustees of the new church at a meeting last Thursday, and Edward Kahler, Jr., was chosen clerk of the session. Mrs. Frank Beck has been named president of the adult choir and Mrs. Wilhurl Reich is chairman of the Women's Association.

BULLETIN NOTES

Dr. Charles C. Ryrie, president of the Philadelphia College of Bible, will be guest speaker Friday evening at a meeting of the Princeton Evangelical Fellowship, to be held at 7:30 in the music room of the second floor of Murray-Dodge Hall. The meeting is open to the public.

Members of the Missionary Society of Princeton Baptist Church, Penns Neck, will be hostesses Monday at 6:30 at a supper meeting. Special guests will be members of the Woman's Baptist Mission Society of the Trenton Association. Mrs. Marlin D. Farnum of Tenafly, Baptist missionary, will be guest speaker, and Mrs. Allen Falls of Clinton Avenue Baptist Church, Trenton, will be soloist. Mrs. Herman Miller is president of the hostess group and Mrs. Walter Schare is in charge of arrangements for the supper.

Second in a series of lectures on "Archeology in the Land of the Bible" will be held Tuesday evening at 8:30 at Princeton Jewish Center. Speaker will be Professor R. B. Y. Scott of Princeton University, who will talk on "The Excavation of Ancient Gibeon." Second meeting of the seminar series, "Introduction to the Talmud," will be held Monday at 8:30 at the Jewish Center. Rabbi Dr. Irving M. Levey will be speaker. All persons interested in attending either session are asked to call Harold Borkan at WA 1-7885.

Additional members of the executive committee of the Women's Division of Princeton Jewish Center have been announced by Mrs. Mortimer Feldman, chairman. They are: Mrs. Paul Rapaport, Mrs. Harry Winthrop, Mrs. Leonard Hymerling, Mrs. Murray Medvin, Mrs. Benjamin Miller, Mrs. Irvin Glassman, Mrs. Aaron Salkin, Mrs. Bruce Lampert, Mrs. Jerome Shatzkin, Mrs. Morton Lewin, Mrs. Benjamin Kingsley, Mrs. Maurice Glicksman, Mrs. Alfred Bernhardt, Mrs. Norman Denard, Mrs. Irvin Vine, Mrs. Jess Epstein, Mrs. Reuben Cohen, Mrs. Thomas Stix, Mrs. Arthur Rittmaster and Mrs. Robert Witt.

The Rev. Dr. Richard Luecke, pastor of Lutheran Church of the Messiah and chaplain to Lutheran students on the University campus, will be guest speaker next week at a conference at Valparaiso (Ind.) University. He will deliver a series of Reformation lectures at the conference, which is being held under the auspices of the Miller Foundation. Dr. Luecke was formerly a member of the faculty of Valparaiso University.

Sports In Princeton

PCD TIES AGAIN

For Third Time in Soccer. The Princeton Country Day School soccer team played its third tie in four games Monday afternoon, the contest with Valley Road School ending in a 1-1 deadlock. Peter Morse, PCD center forward, made the goal that brought his team from behind.

On Friday, West Windsor topped Country Day, 3 to 1, scoring all its goals in the first half before Towny Blodgett averted a shutout with a fourth-quarter goal for PCD. The Blue and White meets the Peddie School Juniors away this Friday.

In football, Pingry gained partial revenge for two losses to the Broadmead eleven last fall when it ran up a 28-13 triumph here Friday afternoon. Dick Reynolds and Pepper Pettit scored for Country Day after the visitors had taken a 14-0 halftime lead.

"House Hunting?" . . .

People With a Sense of Style Are Buying In

Princeton Manor

Children can romp in the spacious surrounding woods. Mother will delight in the convenience to shopping and schools. And Father will appreciate the solid construction of our homes as a wise capital hedge against inflation.

The Princeton Manor Construction Co. will build from your ideas, your architect's plans, or from over 200 designs in our files. Locally owned and managed, the Princeton Manor Construction Co. is currently building fifteen to twenty custom-built homes a year in Central New Jersey. Consult our list of building sites in the Princeton area. You may use your lot as all or part of the down payment on your new home. A few of our extra services are unusually favorable financing and free consultation with an interior decorator.

Visit our display Home open every day except Wednesday from noon 'til dusk

From the center of Princeton go east on Nassau St. for 1 mile, turn left on Snowden Lane to Franklin Ave., left 1 block and right on Grover Ave. to 136 Randall Rd. and Display Home.

Remember
WHEN YOU AND THE GANG BUILT A TREE HOUSE...

Maybe It was just an old packing case held up by a rickety platform. But you loved it "you fixed it up" It was your first taste of home ownership.

You felt the same prideful thrill when you built or purchased a home for your family. That happened - how many years ago? Perhaps it's time for a check up. Rools do develop leaks. Sidelwalls do begin to show their age. Repairs do become increasingly urgent.

Procrastination can be costly. That old tin of mischievous makers - delay, linger and neglect, can run up expenses more than anything else. Call

Luxurious Ranch, Split Level and Colonial Homes on 1/2 acre plots

3, 4 and 5 BEDROOMS

Here are stately homes...extremely spacious rooms...inspired decorative and functional ideas. The Swarthmore school, for example, has 2400 square feet of actual living space. It has four bedrooms, two-and-a-half baths, a den or guest room, a wood-paneled recreation room with fireplace and a 2-car garage. And every model has special distinctions...supremely beautiful planning for all requirements and tastes. Only 30 houses will be built on these choice 30 acres. We suggest an early visit.

REAL ESTATE OFFERINGS

SPECIALLY RECOMMENDED

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

An attractive three bedroom rancher, in better than new condition, if this be possible. The living room is large (15 x 23), has a fireplace and conveniently arranged dining space; the kitchen is up to date and very functional. Structurally this house is excellent; it has good lines, a full dry basement, and is most conveniently situated for schools and shopping.

LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP

NASSAU ESTATES: 17 JILL Lane. This is the different Split-level; it has the standard room arrangement of seven rooms, three bedrooms, one and two half baths, a large family room etc.; however, it also has the full potential of a quiet residential street, perfect maintenance, and well thought out arrangements for the owners convenience. Down payment and closing cost, $12,000; monthly down payment $5400, monthly carrying cost $124.

PRINCETON BOROUGH

We can offer variability, selection, and semi-custom construction in this new development; there are four styles to choose from with varying room arrangements and three to four bedrooms. Call us for details on possession, price, and financing. Prices start at $25,900.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

Here the location is quiet and secluded, yet school is close, and the area established. The contemporary has an easy flowing room plan, privacy and ease of upkeep. The living area has a truly open effect, a fireplace and lots of wall space for furniture placing; there are three bright, airy bedrooms, and one and one-half baths. A very interesting proposition for the contemporary house buyer.

LAWRENCEVILLE

This house represents good pre-war construction of a nicely architected Georgian Colonial; the street is quiet and the area established. First floor has a large entrance hall with winding stairs to second floor, a spacious and separate living room with fireplace, separate dining room, den and kitchen. Second floor has three large bright bedrooms
